Mac Attempts to Calm Fears Over ECM Entry

GUAM BASE FOR A-SUBS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy announced today it will base Polaris missile submarines at Guam, strategically located in the mid-Pacific about 1,800 miles from Communist China.

The announcement gave no date for moving the nuclear-powered subs into the Pacific, but the navy timetable is reported to call for posting the first of them off Red China by late next year.

Formosa Admits Flight

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist China, reporting it shot down one of two U-2 planes the Chinese Nationalists bought from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U-2's they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a "routine" reconnaissance mission over the China mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U-2's were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation in December of that year.

A U.S. state department spokesman said the U-2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes was solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it "could be assumed" that information obtained from Nationalist U-2 flights would be turned over to the United States in the normal course of intelligence exchange between the two allies.

FOLLOWS USSR PROTEST

The latest U-2 incident, announced over Peking radio, came five days after the Soviet Union protested that an American-piloted U-2 had violated Soviet air space over Russian-held Sakhalin Island, north of Japan.

The United States admitted that one of its patrol planes might have been blown off course by high winds.

Peking did not disclose the fate of the Nationalist pilot, but Nationalist officials said privately they were convinced he could not have been captured alive.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U-2 intact to the mainland.

Historic Meeting Underway

(Times News Services)
LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today opened the 1962, 16-nation Commonwealth prime ministers' conference with a speech attempting to calm fears about Britain's possible entrance into the European Common Market, it was reported.

Reports said Macmillan delivered the speech in the blessed afternoon session of what British newspapers called the most vital such meeting in Commonwealth history.

Details of conference proceedings were—as usual—not made public. But reports said Macmillan followed up his brief morning welcoming address with a speech designed to allay the deep-rooted suspicions that British Commonwealth membership might loosen drastically the economic and political ties, binding the Commonwealth.

'FULL EXPLANATION'

The first of what is expected to be a series of conference communiques issued tonight said only that Macmillan gave a "full explanation of the political and economic aspects" of Britain's plan to join the continental trade bloc.

The leaders of 750,000 people decided after Macmillan's statement to set aside the next two days for general debate on the market issue.

But the talks can reach no final conclusion since the decision on the final terms rests ultimately with the six nations of the Common Market.

Macmillan was expected to yield to pressure from most of the prime ministers for a further meeting, probably early next year, after the British negotiations with the Common Market countries are completed.

Pressure in Britain is increasing against Britain's entry. As the prime ministers gathered at Marlborough House this morning they passed a picket line carrying placards reading: "Common Market means end of the Commonwealth" and "Common Market—No."

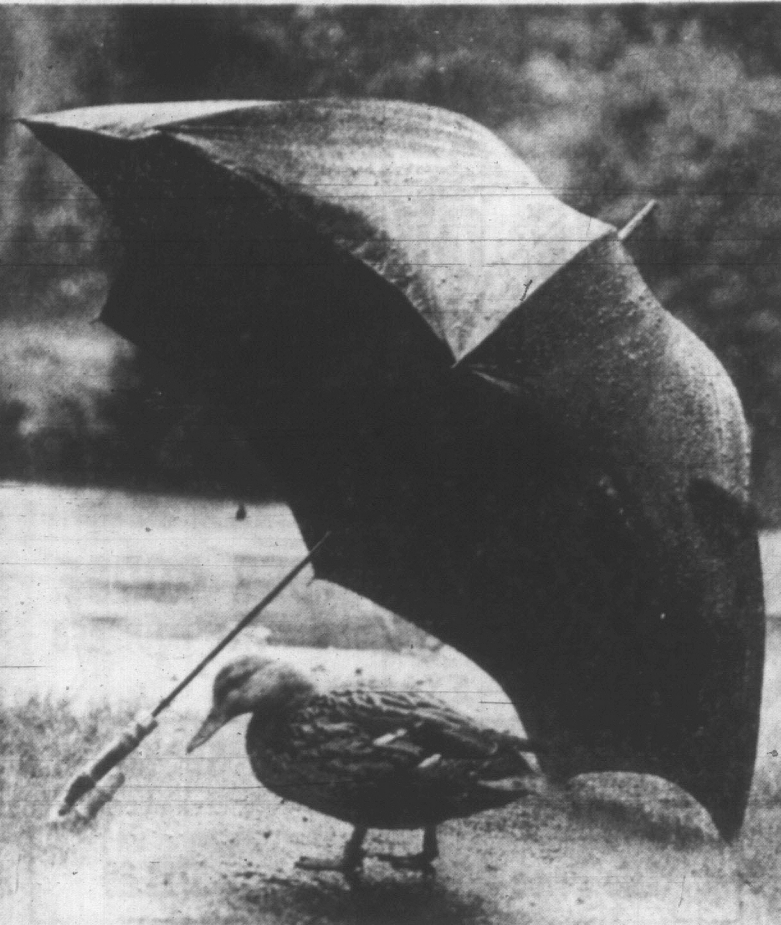

Macmillan, as host to the gathering, made an opening speech of welcome this morning. Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada and Dr. Eric Williams of Trinidad, as leaders of the oldest and youngest Commonwealth nations, replied.

DIEFENBAKER REPLIES

Mr. Diefenbaker said it is "important to look to the future at this time, when a problem of momentous significance is before us for consideration."

He expressed confidence that all members would pledge themselves to ensure that the underlying principle of their talks would be "the further strengthening of the Commonwealth association."

NOT REALLY FIT FOR DUCKS

It was rain, rain, rain over most of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland today—and this solitary duck in Beacon Hill Park seemed glad of an umbrella. Starting Sunday afternoon, 29 of an inch fell on Greater Victoria overnight and this morning following a fairly dry spell since Aug. 20. But July and August had more rain than usual. Mainly cloudy weather with showers is expected Tuesday with some clearing towards evening. (Times photo by Halkett.)

FARMER PROTESTS IN VAIN

Wife Holds the Title — Freedomites Stay

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)—While an irate farmer looked on helplessly, some 750 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors placidly settled down in his fields Sunday.

BITTER PILL

Own Stone Galled Patient

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—After Joseph Freenan underwent successful surgery for gall bladder trouble a soldier nurse brought him the gallstone that was removed Saturday so he could see what it looked like.

Freenan was speaking at his bedside telephone when the nurse left the stone in a cup.

Freenan finished his conversation, looked in to the cup and, thinking it contained a pill, promptly swallowed his gall stone.

Doctors at St. Joseph's Hospital assured Freenan the stone would not trouble him again, and the patient was sent home to continue his recuperation.

Hunger Strike

NANAIMO (CP)—Six young Doukhobors have gone on a hunger strike at the Brannen Lake School for juvenile male offenders.

School officials said the strike began Sept. 3, apparently in sympathy with the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are on a trek from the Kootenays to Agassiz.

Officials said that since Labor Day the youths, all aged 16 and 17 years, have only been drinking water.

Reporters Missing

HAVANA (AP)—Three reporters representing Western press organizations failed to return home today and there were fears they may have been picked up by Cuban security officials.

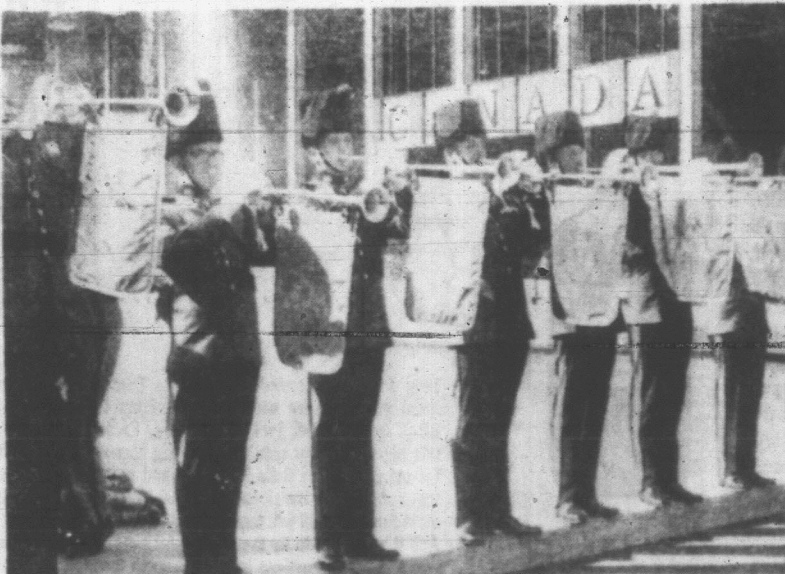

VIOLENCE ROCKS RHODESIA

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—White-ruled Southern Rhodesia experienced widespread arson, sabotage and political intimidation during the weekend, police said today.

Police said they are investigating the source of leaflets claiming the existence of a Mau Mau-like African "liberation army" which advocates violence to put Southern Rhodesia immediately under black rule.

The disorders included: An attempt to blow up a highway bridge near Umtali, 170 miles from Salisbury; the burning of an African school at Sinolia, 70 miles from Salisbury; the erection of roadblocks in some areas and the burning of the European club house at Zaka, near Fort Victoria.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U-2 intact to the mainland.

KASHMIR DISPUTE

Nehru Target Of Angry Mob

LONDON (Reuters)—Demonstrators demanding the independence of Kashmir broke through a police cordon today and headed toward a car carrying Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

But police after a few minutes struggle managed to force back the angry Kashmiris to the sidewalk.

The demonstrators, who booed and shook their fists at Nehru's car as he left the opening session of the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference here.

A short distance away demonstrators representing an anti-market movement in Britain carried placards reading "Britain-yes, Common Market-no."

The demonstrators, about 300 of them, shouted slogans that built up to a crescendo as each car carrying a Commonwealth statesman swept past.

Kashmir has been claimed by both India and Pakistan since the sub-continent was divided in 1947.

The maharajah ruling the Himalayan province acceded the territory to India, but Pakistan refused to recognize the accession.

Uganda Welcomed By Commonwealth

LONDON (Reuters)—Leaders of the 15 Commonwealth countries meeting here today, formally approved Uganda's application to become an independent member of the Commonwealth after Oct. 9.

At their first session this morning the leaders also agreed that Tanganyika should remain within the Commonwealth after it becomes a republic in December conference sources said.

UN Members Split in Poll On Atom Arms

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—United Nations members, in a poll taken by Acting Secretary-General U Thant, split about evenly on the issue of calling an international conference to sign a treaty outlawing nuclear weapons.

This was disclosed today in a report to the forthcoming General Assembly by Thant.

The United States and Britain were among 26 nations who were against or had doubts about holding the conference. The Soviet Union and other Communist nations were among 29 nations expressing a favorable view.

An Asian-African resolution, approved by a vote of 55-to-20 with 26 abstentions at the last assembly, directed Thant to make the poll.

MONTREAL (CP)—The body of five-year-old Linda Martin was found strangled to death today at her Napierville home, 25 miles south of Montreal, and provincial police sought a 22-year-old maid for questioning.

'Jet Car' Driver Dies In Test Run Explosion

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Driver Glenn Leasure of San Mateo, Calif., was killed today when his jet car, infinitely, apparently exploded on a test run through the measured mile on these western Utah salt flats.

The accident occurred on a second run through the measured mile after Leasure had made one pass at 287 miles an hour.

Witnesses said the auto appeared to explode near the place where driver Athol Graham of Salt Lake City was killed and Donald Campbell of England injured in 1960.

The auto the 23-year-old Leasure was driving belonged to Romeo Palamides and Harry Buro of Oakland, Calif.

Centennial Flashback ...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

SEPT. 10
A large hay press, the first on the Island, arrived for Mr. Lennox, and it is apparent that the farmers have not forgotten last winter's severe weather. A good portion of most farms is devoted to the growing of wheat, which is now being harvested and stacked.

William Cocker has been chosen unanimously to represent Esquimalt in the House of Assembly, succeeding Mayor Harris. This election was held yesterday in front of Williams' Hotel, Wharf Street, and the 50 persons attending them adjourned to the bar to drink Mr. Cocker's health.

The Royal Navy flagship Bacchante will sail Sept. 15 on her winter cruise in southern waters, which will last several months.

A Grand Regatta is being planned for Victoria Harbor on Sept. 20, with $250 in prize money for sailing, rowing and paddling events.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Boys and girls of Victoria Junior Natural History Society worked through the weekend on the 40-foot-long exhibit they are preparing for the Horticultural Society's big show in the Curling Rink next Friday and Saturday.

At the Nature House in sylvan Thomas Francis Park, I watched the youngsters laying out specimens of plants, insects, stuffed birds, rock and soil and cuttings from trees and bushes on a 40-foot length of white paper.

This industrious scene was presided over, of course, by the society's genial president, Freeman (Skipper) King, whose favorite advice is:

"Don't wait for me—have a go at it yourself!"

There's a bidder for the old Fort Victoria—used in our Centennial pageant. Former channel swimmer Ben Laughren wants it. (A hundred years from now it could be a valuable relic.)

Former naval officer Digby Lynch was a Victoria visitor over the weekend, with his 19-year-old son Tom.

A Haligonian and one of the most popular young officers in the RCNVR, Lynch was in the first class at Royal Roads in the Second World War. From insurance in Halifax, he has branched out into interests as far-ranging as vending machines and a copper property in Idaho.

A lady tourist called at the travel desk of one of our local transportation firms to complete a circle tour of this area:

"Certainly, madam," the young clerk said, "and how did you arrive on the island?"

"I don't know," she said.

"Did you land at Nanaimo or Sidney?"

"I'm sorry—I don't know."

"What ship did you travel on to the island?"

"She concentrated manfully, then brightened."

"It was a Japanese ferry," she said. "I know that because it was called the Kahaki or Kolkiki or something. And it flew the 'Rising Sun'."

From England, comes the tale of the liquor manufacturer who went to great trouble to have his factory's telephone number (considered in terms of the letters rather than numbers) spell out WHISKY.

He had to settle his factory in the Whitehall exchange area to do it.

Unfortunately, it seems the Scots spell it differently, and there is one angry man in London whose phone number spells WHISKIE.

Keeping abreast of the times, Rev. J. Douglas Watson fired a small rocket to mark the reopening of Sunday school at Stevenson Memorial Baptist Church, 1792 Townley Street, Sunday morning.

The result was a record attendance of more than 70 boys and girls who watched wide-eyed while Mr. Watson lit his home-made rocket and sent it zooming into the air.

"We called it Project Stevenson Control," he laughed. Mr. Watson will be inducted as minister of the church this Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Three Victoria high school graduates are among 32 Canadians who have been enrolled in the Royal Canadian Navy as officer cadets under terms of the Venture Plan.

They are Garth Campbell Gordon, 53 Lewis Street; Gary Douglas Fullerton, 559 Baxter Avenue, and Stephen Robert Price, 3439 Cook Street.

14 STRAIGHT WINS

Vancouver Poodle Best in Dog Show

A miniature poodle owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Osborne of Vancouver, was judged best in show at the 29th All-Breed Championship Show and Obedience Trials held Friday and Saturday at the Victoria Curling Club.

Winner Rothara The White Vivianer, was bred in England and has been undefeated in 14 shows in the sporting group. The dog has gained seven best-in-show titles and is undefeated in five U.S. shows.

Best Canadian-bred in show was Kee-Ting China's Toni, a Pekingese owned and bred by Mrs. Carita Grieve, Saanichton. The champion needs but two points in U.S. competition to become an international champion.

Best Canadian-bred puppy was a German Shepherd, Von Greg-Cyn's Commander, owned by Gregory and Cynthia Iverson, Victoria.

The show was judged by William Nixon, Winnipeg; Art Burden, Scarborough, Ont., and George Donaldson, Victoria.

Highest scoring dog in the obedience trials was a Welsh Corgi owned by Mrs. S. B. Roberts of Victoria.

Cathay's Buccaneer, owned by Mr. A. B. Finnie of Haney, B.C., was judged best of breed in the Van Isle German Shepherd Dog Club's first Specialty Championship Show held in conjunction with the Championship Show and Obedience trials.

Complete results:

EASTERN SOVIET HIT BY DAMAGING TYPHOON

MOSCOW (AP)—Typhoon Emma struck Far Eastern coastal regions of the Soviet Union, causing serious damage, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

Tass said overflowing rivers washed out bridges, tore up highways and disrupted communications in more than 10 districts.

The report, following usual practice here, made no mention of human casualties.

... MACMILLAN

the value of the Commonwealth in promoting mutual understanding and respect among governments and nations of differing backgrounds.

On arrival Friday, Diefenbaker whetted journalistic curiosity by guarded references to an "alternative" Canadian plan for Commonwealth trade expansion that may be produced if Britain does not join the European Economic Community.

REACTIONS VARY

This produced varied reactions. Newspapers hostile to British entry gleefully portrayed Diefenbaker as Macmillan's main opponent.

The Daily Express, a constant critic of the European design, says Diefenbaker will "lead the Commonwealth cause" this week in two major speeches, one stressing his fear that Canada may be forced into undue dependence on the United States, the other outlining the damage British membership in EEC would do to "Canadian newsprint, aluminum, lumber, fish and the big industrial complex in southwestern Ontario."

Other papers are more sceptical about Canadian "plans." The Daily Telegraph, favorable to British entry, says delegates are eagerly awaiting details of the reported Canadian initiative. It says they are unable to see what alternative Canada can produce other than a Commonwealth free trade area, "which for some years now has been recognized as a complete non-starter."

Mr. Diefenbaker lunched Sunday with Mr. Macmillan. Diefenbaker described their talks as "very fine." One point touched on, it is understood, was the Saturday declaration by British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell that Britain shouldn't enter the EEC's six-nation Common Market on the basis of "present vague promises and assurances" for the protection of Commonwealth trade interest.

HOPES BUOYED

Mr. Diefenbaker was reported to have been buoyed up by the Gaitskell declaration and by the recently published findings of a national public opinion poll that a majority of British people now oppose Common Market membership.

Diefenbaker obviously sees both these developments as adding weight to his government's concern over the proposed British move.

REPORT VAGUE

One vague report in conference circles, which Canadian informants declined to discuss, was that Canada has a "document" in being, sketching the broad outlines of a transatlantic trading area including the United States.

The conference, perhaps the most publicized in Commonwealth history and certainly the most momentous in relation to economic affairs since the Ottawa trade agreements of 1932, opened against a background of unusual complexity.

On the one hand those who profess to know the British government's innermost feelings are convinced that Macmillan and his colleagues will make clear their belief that Britain, come what may, must take the leap into Europe.

Against this there are signs that the government will need steady nerves to combat a steady and growing column of anti-European sentiment both at home and in Commonwealth countries.

Conference sources said that it already was generally agreed that the talks would end Sept. 19. There should be two sessions—morning and afternoon—daily except during the coming weekend.

and their families be dispersed throughout Canada.

LEAVE WEDNESDAY

A delegation left for Agassiz Sunday to attempt to arrange accommodation. Fanny Storhoff, one of the spokesmen, said the rest would leave Wednesday when the delegation returned.

Apparently in commenting on reports that the Freedomites would never reach the Fraser Valley town, "Big Fanny" said: "I do not care what anyone says or what the reports are, we are going to Agassiz to our people."

Mr. Verigin expressed his disappointment with the attorney-general in an interview.

"This situation is very, very serious. My people have had no rest and are on edge and we will find no peace or contentment until they (Freedomites) have left the area."

LOSE SLEEP

He has said that the people are spending sleepless nights guarding their property. It is reported that the five sawmills in the area will stay closed until the Freedomites leave, giving their employees a chance to guard their property.

Councillor Norman Green of Agassiz said officials are at a loss to know what to do about the marchers. If they arrived something would have to be done—"we can't just turn them out."

Court Record Of Forger In Dispute

Judicial puzzlement over the alleged record of a man who pleaded guilty to uttering seven forged documents won him a remand in city police court Saturday until the matter could be cleared up.

Neale Vanderhaeghe, 1024 Dunford, will be sentenced Wednesday on seven charges of forging cheques in the name of a former employer, Nick Liberto, carrying on business as B. L. Logging Co.

Vanderhaeghe's record was read to the court, including a sentence in Alberta in 1959 of "time in custody."

"There's no such sentence," objected Magistrate William Ooster.

"The accused man consulted with his counsel, Iaa Stewart, but was unable to shed any light on the matter."

"I must take this conviction—if it was a conviction—into consideration in sentencing," said the magistrate.

He ordered prosecutor Angus Smith to have the correct record in court by Wednesday so that sentence could be passed.

Police Waiting Victim's Report Of Knife Attack

City detectives investigating the stabbing of a 25-year-old man Saturday have been held up by the victim's condition in hospital.

Police said today they do not expect to be able to talk to him until Tuesday "at the earliest."

Norman Bradley, 749 McClure is in fairly good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital where he was admitted early Saturday morning with a knife wound in the stomach.

He was given an emergency operation, although no vital organs were damaged.

The victim made his own way to the emergency ward at the hospital where his mother, Mrs. Ann Bradley, works as a maid.

Police have talked with Mrs. Bradley who has stated she knows the identity of her son's assailant.

"He carried a knife for just that purpose," she was reported as saying.

Mr. Bradley's 20-year-old wife Judith, who was with him the night of the stabbing has refused to discuss the incident with her mother-in-law.

RUINED IRAN VILLAGES SPOTTED FROM 'COPTER

KAZVIN, Iran (AP)—There are no signs of life at "scores of villages" still unreached by rescue and relief teams working in Iran's earthquake belt, a United States helicopter pilot reports.

The report of Capt. Dallas W. Goodwin, 421st Medical Company, suggests the death toll of the earthquake a week ago might go higher than the present official estimate of 10,000.

Rescue teams have concentrated on stricken villages on both sides of the Aveh Mountains west of Tehran. Goodwin said the dead mud brick hamlets he saw Saturday were in the foothills or high on mountain slopes.

"There is nothing left of them but rubble," said the captain, who began flying victims to the U.S. field hospital here since Friday.

Telescope in the Sky To Probe Mars, Venus

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Scientists will float a giant telescope 80,000 feet above the earth early next year, and, by means of television, view the universe as it has never been seen before.

Twin balloons will hoist the telescope into the heavens next February or March, when Mars is comparatively close to the earth.

At a distance of 1,000 miles, the 18-foot long telescope will be able to view an object about six inches wide. At the same distance, it will be able to distinguish two spots of light only 30 inches apart.

The entire apparatus, weighing more than six tons and dubbed Stratoscope II, will be launched from the new scientific balloon flight station at Palestine, Tex.

TO COST $336,000

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is financing the first $336,000 flight of Stratoscope II to take a close look at Mars.

Once aloft, the entire balloon contraption — stretching in length to nearly the height of the Washington Monument — will sway to and fro like a clock pendulum.

The Washington monument is 555 feet, five inches in height.

But motors and special television cameras will keep the telescope pointed at a single spot in the universe.

Dr. Martin Schwarzschild of Princeton University, director of the project, hopes his heavenly apparatus will enable him to get a close look at the "white dots" on Venus and the "canals" of Mars.

He said the sightings may give support to the view that there is life on Mars, or raise serious doubts about it.

Liberal 'Shadow Cabinet' Boning Up for Session

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—The Liberal opposition is burnishing its armor and cleaning its guns in case the government survives votes of non-confidence in the early days of the parliamentary session opening Sept. 27.

The 100 Liberal MPs elected at the June 18 general election expect to line up teams to carry Commons debates on various subjects and to put forward the Liberals' position in House committees.

The Liberals will have a sort of double shadow cabinet—an inner core of men with experience and special abilities in particular fields, and a wider grouping from which to keep up the fire on particularly important questions which come before the House.

Apart from Liberal Leader Pearson, such veteran MPs as former cabinet ministers as Paul Martin, J. W. Pickersgill, Lionel Chevrier and Paul Hellyer form a nucleus around which the shadow cabinet is framed.

Mr. Martin can be expected to lead the attack on health and welfare, his portfolio in the former Liberal government, and on foreign affairs in which he has had experience. Mr. Chevrier will put to use his experience as former transport minister on matters under that portfolio.

Mr. Pickersgill will keep an eye on citizenship and immigration, his former portfolio, and also on federal-provincial relations, a subject on which he has specialized in opposition ranks.

Mr. Hellyer, former associate defense minister, likely will share duties as defence critic with Charles M. (Bud) Drury, former deputy defence minister elected in Montreal St. Antoine-Westmount.

Mr. Drury may also double in brass on trade affairs with George McIlraith, a former parliamentary secretary to Trade Minister C. D. Howe and a veteran parliamentarian.

Brain Damage Suffered By Soblen

CP from Reuters-AP

LONDON—Dr. Robert Soblen, still unconscious four days after taking an overdose of barbiturates, is suffering from "serious" brain damage and frequent convulsions, it was disclosed today.

Dr. C. G. B. Barnes, consultant physician treating the 61-year-old fugitive spy, said damage resulted after the barbiturates interrupted the supply of oxygen to the brain.

"The brain damage is now the most serious problem of Dr. Soblen's illness," Dr. Barnes said.

A Hillingdon Hospital bulletin today said Soblen's coma "was not as deep but he still was unconscious."

"Convulsions continue to occur frequently and constitute the main cause for anxiety," the bulletin said.

Dr. Barnes said the convulsions began soon after the spy's symptoms of heart fatigue eased.

He said the convulsions were caused either by a hemorrhage on the surface of the brain or by a late effect of the barbiturates.

Job Promise Lured Boy; Man Jailed

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Ralph Anderson, 42, was jailed for three years here Saturday for indecent assault against a 14-year-old Vancouver boy lured away from home with the false promise of a job on a ranch.

"You deliberately misled a mother into sending a boy to your care," Magistrate George Steward told Anderson.

"He was 500 miles away from home and unable to protect himself."

Police said the boy came to Prince George in response to a newspaper advertisement offering work on a ranch.

When the boy didn't get the job, his mother called police.

He telephoned home and the mother kept him on the line for 45 minutes while RCMP traced the call to nearby Red Rock where they later found Anderson with the boy.

Only the guerrillas of Kabylie Mountain wilaya No. 3 remain as an important stronghold of anti-Ben Bella politicians.

Some of Ben Bella's leading rivals were believed to have taken refuge in the Kabylie range east of Algiers, where the regular forces have not yet penetrated. The refugees included Mohammed Boudiaf, once Ben Bella's only opponent on the political bureau, who resigned in protest against the military invasion of the rebel held area.

Ben Bella promised Sunday demobilization of two-thirds of the guerrilla forces and said the political bureau would go ahead immediately with ambitious land reform and industrialization plans to meet the growing threat of unemployment, poverty and hunger.

The political bureau set Sept. 20 as the "definite date" for the legislative elections already postponed six times since French rule ended July 3.

All the election candidates will be returned unopposed in a single-party ballot giving the voters a choice only of saying yes or no to the official list. All the 196 candidates to be announced by the political bureau later this week are certain to be returned, and Ben Bella will have a dominant majority in the national assembly.

NATO Chief Doubts Need of U.S. Buildup

OSLO, Norway (AP)—NATO Secretary-General Dirk Strikker said today there is nothing in the present world situation to cause President Kennedy to call up 150,000 reservists immediately.

Strikker told a press conference he could understand why the U.S. president had asked Congress for authority to call up the reservists since it would permit him to meet any new crisis that develops while Congress is in recess. But the North Atlantic Treaty Organization of

'IT MAKES YOU WANT TO CRY'

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Plans were being made today to raise $25,000 to rebuild two Negro churches that burned to the ground in this racially troubled southwest Georgia area where an FBI agent was attacked by a white farmer in the latest outbreak of violence.

The farmer, 58-year-old Virgil Edmund Puckett, was held in an Albany jail on a charge of assaulting a federal officer.

Civil rights leaders pledged to help rebuild the churches in the nearby Sasser area and intensify their Negro voter registration campaign.

"It really makes you want to cry deep down in your heart," said Negro athlete Jackie Robinson after inspecting the ruins of the churches Sunday.

He agreed to serve as honorary chairman of a drive to rebuild the Mount Olive Baptist Church, about four miles from the other church. Both burned Sunday.

Too Late and Too Lame

WHILE MR. DIEFENBAKER in London was hinting that he may propose a plan for increased Commonwealth trade, his trade minister, Mr. Hees, was predicting in Ottawa that Canadian tariffs must be progressively lowered by as much as 50 per cent if Canada is to keep pace with the world trend towards freer trade.

Both statements represent a complete reversal of government policy to date. Both ideas seem unlikely to be implemented by the Conservative government.

Since Mr. Diefenbaker gave a brusque rejection to British proposals in 1957 for free trade between the two countries, he has done little of a concrete nature to indicate a desire for greater Commonwealth trade. He has instead made it more difficult for British textiles and cars to enter Canada, and for British shipping to use the St. Lawrence Seaway.

To come out now with a plan for greater Commonwealth trade—particularly of an extent which would provide for Britain an alternative to joining the European Common Market—must mean an about-face in action which is difficult to credit. Such a statement may sound fine in the company of Commonwealth prime ministers gathering in London. It will have sounded a much different note among the industrialists of Canada who look to the federal government for protection against the competition of imports, whether Commonwealth or otherwise.

Even more fantastic-sounding is Mr. Hees' statement on tariff reductions. If sincere it represents a 180-degree turn in Conservative policy, a belated recognition of Canada's lonely position in the great world of trade, and a drastic decision by a government clinging to the edge of political office by its finger nails.

Even disregarding the government's record of the past five years—ever since it gained office—there are two considerations which appear to scuttle Mr. Diefenbaker's hinted proposal.

With his precarious minority government, Mr. Diefenbaker is not in a position to commit the country firmly to a far-reaching trade policy, and particularly one which reverses the whole tradition of his party. If this is a preliminary attempt to steal the Liberal tariff platform, it is too late and too lame. It will not wash with the Canadian electorate, and it is very doubtful if it will wash with the people of Britain either.

Secondly, Commonwealth trade, even vastly augmented, could not be an adequate alternative to Britain's entry into the ECM. Too many other factors are involved, even if the size and nature of the intra-family traffic could be made acceptable, which is doubtful.

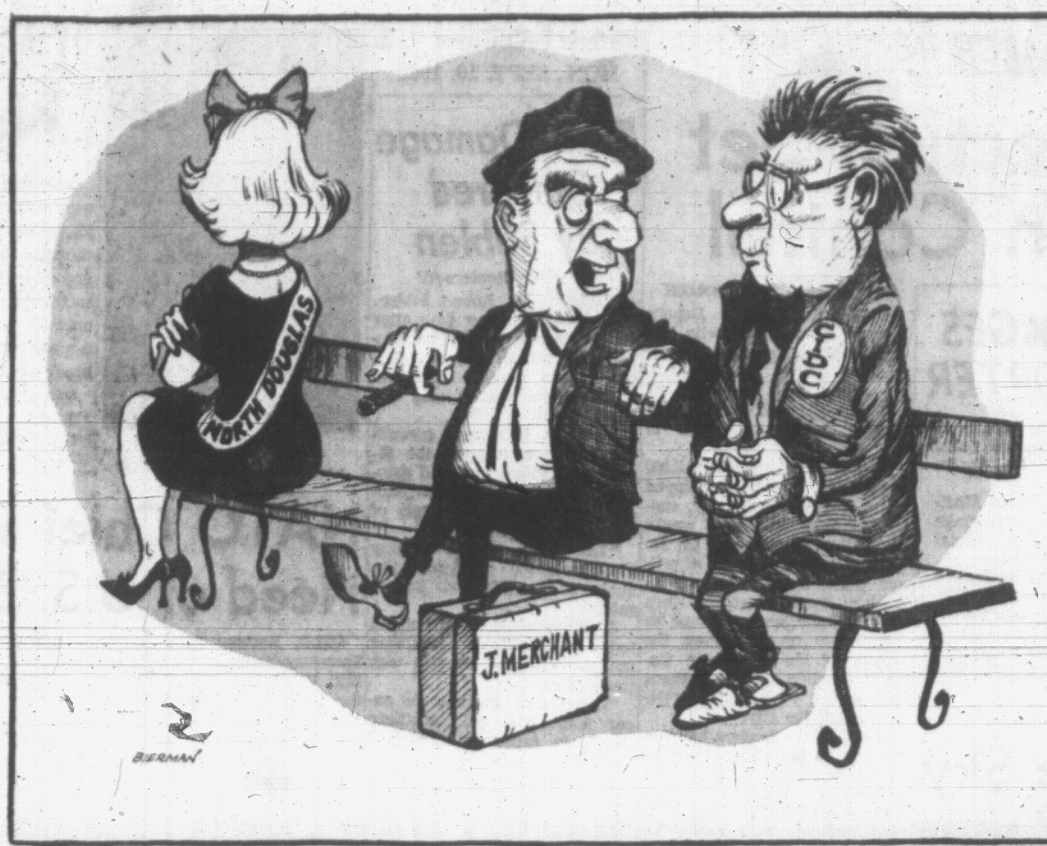

Entailed also are Britain's position in Europe, both economically and politically; the factor of the relations of both Britain and Canada with the United States, which is already committed to a policy of transatlantic co-operation with the ECM and favors Britain's membership; the new world trade environment which the growth of the ECM is creating and its involvement in the East-West struggle.

Britain, in applying for membership of the Common Market, is making one of the most important decisions in its history. Will she be a leader in the European community, exerting the influence in this new group which she should, or will she become a small island off the northern coast of Europe, living on the fringe of her more prosperous neighbors? Will Mr. Diefenbaker's proposal of increased trade—particularly coming from such a doubtful source—move Britain to reject the first alternative and gamble on not seeing the second become fact?

Mr. Diefenbaker has not worried much about British ties in framing his tariff policy to date. He welcomes them on the platform but not, apparently, on the cargo dock. In the present proposal, is he worried most about the Commonwealth, Britain, Canada or his own government? It would not be fair or true to suggest that he does not have a high concern for the first three, but his present precarious political handhold must make the fourth consideration also an important one to him.

A laconic paragraph in the London report of the latest development reads: "Mr. Diefenbaker's emphasis on the possibility of increasing Commonwealth trade is regarded as unrealistic in some official quarters in London."

That is a diplomatic way of saying it.

WHEN GOOD FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

By B. A. TOBIN

With a Touch of Family Sentiment

THE sound of Whitehall traffic comes faintly through the closed upper-storey windows to a group of men gathered around a large oak table.

The rumble and clatter of the street are audible, but not enough to disturb the meeting.

First Prime Minister: Well, gentlemen, we all know why we're here. The thing is: who's going to tell Harold?

Second PM: It's a wonder he isn't here now.

Third PM: Well, I ah, I, um, neglected to inform him of the meeting.

Several PMs: Oh! Hah! Hm! Oh.

Third PM: Fact is, gentlemen, I thought it would be better if we just had a little confab here together before we see him. Sort of get our thinking organized, if you follow me.

First PM: Oh yes, we follow you.

Second PM: Somebody used that for a slogan once, didn't they?

Third PM: Er, ah, I think perhaps the agenda is waiting, gentlemen.

Fourth PM: Rather. Let's get down to business, shall we?

Fifth PM: It's very apparent, gentlemen, that for us at least this Common Market thing will spell ruin. Why the European duty on cocoa butter alone will be doubled. And as for copra...

Third PM: Exactly! Our wheat...

Fourth PM: Take mutton tallow, gentlemen, just take mutton tallow...

Second PM: Britain has always bought all our gentian root—the complete crop, gentlemen—and although we always upped the price a little on them—after all, we're a Commonwealth family aren't we—well, I don't know what we're going to do if there's a Common Market tariff put on it.

Sixth PM: Dash it all, we've got to have the preference! We don't buy much from Britain—I mean we can get it a little cheaper from the Czechs and the Japanese—but surely blood is thicker than water—bond of Empire, and all that you know. They MUST maintain the preferential rate for our silica ore, even though they have no use for the bally stuff, y' know.

Third PM: Exactly! Our nickel...

First PM: Of course, they may expect us to buy more from them, but, after all, we mustn't let ourselves be hamstrung by sentiment. Business is business, you might say.

Third PM: Exactly! Our newsprint...

Seventh PM: The only thing to do is tell it to him straight. We'll just tell him, not ask him.

Third PM: Exactly! Our lumber...

Eighth PM: To say nothing of guano. He just can't do this, that's all!

All: Right! Precisely! Agree! Action! Indubitably! Correct!

Third PM: Our apples...

ENTER Mr. Macmillan.

Mr. M: Ah, gentlemen, I thought perhaps I might find you here. Everything to your satisfaction, I trust? The hotels beds comfortable...?

All: Oh, quite sir. Yes, indeed. Just fine, sir, Excellent.

Third PM: Ah, Mr. Macmillan. We were just discussing, ah, The Situation, you understand? And, ah...

Mr. M: Yes?

Third PM: Well, sir, we have all agreed—officially, of course—but we have agreed that, we, ah, we must, er, that is we...

Second PM: He means, sir, that we must insist that you keep out of the Common Market and retain our Commonwealth preference rates.

Mr. M: Oh, yes, I see. Well, gentlemen, there shouldn't be any difficulty there. Joining the Market will, of course, assure our economic progress, keep us abreast of Europe, mean millions of pounds a year eventually, save us from extinction probably... but, of course, if you have some alternative... You have an alternative, haven't you?

Third PM: Oh yes, we'll trade amongst ourselves—you know, just as we always have. We might take a few more of your shoes, but of course we must remember our own producers, high, eh, mustn't we? And our friend here, I'm sure, would buy a little more textiles each year—not too much, of course, because of his domestic industry, naturally, but... And then our friend on the right here says he'd be glad to double his imports of British cutlery—of course he buys hardly any now, but...

Mr. M: Ah, I see. And how about cars, and woollens, and electronic goods, and shipping, gentlemen—yes, how about shipping?

Third PM: Well, of course, we must consider costs—and previous commitments, yes previous commitments—and then there's the industrial vote, you know, and infant industries, and economic self-sufficiency, and the pressure lobbies—and campaign funds, I'm sure you will recognize...

Mr. M: Ah, yes, gentlemen. Well, I am greatly touched by your—ah—sentiment, and—ah—sense of family ties, and—ah—so on. In the next market negotiations at Brussels I shall keep constantly in mind everything you have said—yes—everything, gentlemen—every blessed word...

Ahead of the Government

By BRUCE MACDONALD

ALTHOUGH it is difficult to assess with any degree of accuracy, public opinion in Canada appears to have accepted as a fact the necessity of Britain joining the European Economic Community if she is to continue to grow and prosper.

Canadians have been made well aware by their government that access of their exports to the United Kingdom market is going to suffer, at least in the short term, but public sentiment appears at the same time to be reconciled to accepting the immediate strains which British entry into the Common Market would impose on the Canadian economy.

Long after the handwriting was clearly writ large on the wall, the Canadian Government persisted in its cherished belief that Britain would decide against applying for membership. When it finally became clear that Britain was in fact moving with determination toward this goal, it reacted with outraged indignation.

Its fury reached its height at the Commonwealth Economic Conference in Accra, when Canadian ministers were outspoken in their suggestions that British membership would drastically hurt Canadian exports to the United Kingdom.

From a political point of view, they contended that British adherence to the Treaty of Rome, involving as it did a far-reaching surrender of sovereignty, could mark the disintegration of the Commonwealth as a living entity. The Conservative Government, which in the past has made much of Canada's ties with Britain and the Commonwealth, found it had badly misjudged the temper of the Canadian people.

Drew Rebukes

While it quite properly was required to defend the position of Canada as best it could, it drew rebukes for what was regarded as an intemperate attack on the British Government, and the Canadian people, it seemed, were prepared to take a longer-term view of developments in Europe than was their government.

Stung by this reaction of public opinion, the government wasted little time in altering its own stance. Warnings about the danger to Canada and the Commonwealth if the United Kingdom joined suddenly came to an end, and by the beginning of this year a wall of silence had descended.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker adopted the position that he had the firm assurance of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that Britain would only enter the Common Market on terms that would protect the vital interests of Commonwealth nations, and on this assurance he was prepared to rest.

About the only strong feeling against British membership in the European Community has been voiced recently by Mr. Robert Thompson, leader of the recently revived Social Credit Party, which today commands the balance of power in the House of Commons.

Mr. Thompson, who previously endorsed the move, said he had reversed his stand when he discovered the loss of British sovereignty involved. For Britain to join the Continent would be the beginning of the end of the Commonwealth, he contended.

Vow of Silence

Having maintained its vow of silence since the beginning of the year, the government has provided no public indication of the stance it will adopt at the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference, but it is expected Mr. Diefenbaker will continue to walk softly in London and be happy to leave quietly with renewed assurances from the British Government that it is bending every effort to protect vital Canadian interests, undefined as those interests might be.

The Canadian Prime Minister was the prime mover of a Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference to consider the terms of British entry into the Common Market but that insistent demand was made back in the days when the Canadian Government was making angrier noises than any other member of the Commonwealth.

There are some sound reasons for believing the government is thankful today it faces the present conference with the terms of membership still undecided and no necessity to take a stand either for or against. With his government in a minority in the House of Commons and an electorate that appears strongly sympathetic to the British cause, Mr. Diefenbaker wants no part of any responsibility for scuttling an alliance between Britain and the Six. But his "possible alternatives" to the ECM are not likely to prove adequate or acceptable.

One-Quarter Affected

Canada's exports to Britain in 1960 made up 17 per cent of its total sales abroad. Exports to the Common Market countries accounted for another 8 per cent, with the result that around one-quarter of all Canada's exports are affected by the terms of access to an enlarged European Economic Community.

Canadian authorities have estimated some 75 per cent of all Canada's sales in the British market would be adversely affected to a greater or lesser degree if Britain sheltered itself behind the continental trade wall.

How seriously Canadian trade with Britain might be hit following a period of transition, it is virtually impossible even to estimate, since the terms of the access of such important items as wheat and lead and zinc, pulp paper, and aluminum have still to be finally determined.

Canadian officials also acknowledge that a healthy and growing Common Market which includes Britain will provide a demand for a number of Canadian products which, in part at least, will compensate for losses of other traditional markets. They hope to trade away British preferences in Canada for lower tariff barriers in other countries as a means of opening up new markets for competitive Canadian goods.

The Junior Unknown Soldiers

THE DAY—THE OPENING-OF-school day in the United States—no doubt will come when newspapers do not carry front-page stories about violence or lack of it at schools catering to both white and Negro children. This year, opening day was a step toward this situation; there were fewer incidents and many more schools throughout the southern states in which white and Negro children mingled.

Arkansas, Georgia, Maryland, Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia saw desegregation spreading. Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina are now the only states in which public school integration has not taken place, and the pressure increases each year.

There are many problems in connection with desegregation. It is easy to criticize from a distance and adopt an over-all idealistic attitude. But equally certain is that those who oppose racial integration in schools, as well as in libraries, eating places, transportation depots and other public buildings, are fighting a losing battle. Conscience is against it, the United States as a federal entity is against it, the twentieth century is against it.

The race which already numbers more than ten per cent of the United States population is determined to achieve its rights—the same human rights which the United States is helping other races in other lands to achieve.

There may be a lengthy rear-guard battle against integration, but it cannot be more than that. And meanwhile many a little dark-eyed, dark-skinned child, in little, unknown triumphs of human courage in the school yard, is helping to add another chapter to the story of the long upward struggle of mankind.

Remember? It Couldn't Be Done

IN A HEAVY TOURIST SEASON when some of the craft were limping the long way around to avoid strong tides in Active Pass, when one vessel was being pushed by a tug on its journey and when various boats were going in and out of drydocks to be patched up internally, the B.C. Toll Authority ferries were making August their peak earning month.

Of course the service benefited from the record tourist year. More people came to the island in the course of Seattle Fair and north-west holidays than ever before. And of course the ferries derived great advantages from the highway work and Deas Island tunnel which added to their money-making proclivities.

But the example in August, failing machinery or not, has proved what many Victorians argued here for years before the service was established. They believed—and were justified in the belief—that the right type of ferries could provide the kind of service this community needed between the south end of the island and the southern part of the British Columbia mainland, and make money doing it.

Victorians will be permitted a wry smile at the earlier rebuttal from those transportation experts who said it couldn't be done. The smile grows broader as the B.C. Toll Authority ferries accountants stagger all the way to the bank.

Now, since we're making such profits, perhaps we may consider a cut in fares?

Ask a Tourist

WHEN A NEW YORK POLICEMAN visiting London, England, was asked directions by a native Londoner, the incident drew humorous comment from many sources.

The experience is not unusual for tourists visiting London, though inquiries are usually put to them by other tourists.

But what's so funny about a native of a particular—and large—region seeking instruction from a stranger? Ever stop to realize how much you know about places of interest in your own locality only because you have, as a social duty, taken a visiting guest to see them?

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Foresight and Understanding

It was with a great deal of interest that I read of Magistrate Ostler's decision to dismiss a charge against an elderly East Indian woman accused of fraudulently obtaining social assistance while having some means of her own. Surely this was a case of bureaucracy at its worst and Mr. Ostler is to be commended for his foresight and understanding.

It is very encouraging in these days when individual rights are gradually being superseded by statute to learn that laws are not only to prosecute the guilty but also to protect the innocent.

This instance does, however, provide an opportunity to recognize the performance of a most demanding and often arduous task by Mr. Ostler with humanity and consideration which goes beyond the dictates of the law.

"APPRECIATED."

Day of Prayer

The following is the copy of a message I have sent to the assembled Prime Ministers at the Commonwealth Conference at Marlborough House, London, England:

"May I respectfully suggest that you petition Her Majesty to call for a Commonwealth-wide Day of Prayer, asking God's help and guidance in the Common Market and other vital issues?"

May I ask for wide newspaper and news agency coverage, requesting endorsement by individuals, churches and other interested organizations? The matter is urgent because the sovereignty of the ancient British throne is at stake.

The Smoke Ascends

Yes, "Property Owner," you could be so right.

Yesterday (Sept. 5th) I contacted city hall in respect to the progress of the new anti-smoke bylaw and was duly informed that "it was not being rushed" (could this be another stall?) and would probably take another two weeks, which probably will mean another four weeks thereafter. This would therefore make it approximately six weeks since a new bylaw was decided upon.

In the meantime, as usual, plenty of smoke and cinders still merrily come our way to plague the taxpayers affected. After the bylaw is drawn up, it will then be presented to smoke abatement committee for approval and correction, then to council. A few more weeks will pass, by this time we shall be getting into next year. We shall then have to await violation charges if any, and is such, another test case, by then comes another summer—1963.

Then what? Another bylaw? Oh yes! Takes time.

The way the smoke and cinder problem has been progressing (?) this centennial year if it may well go on centennial year records as the still "unsolved case of the years."

ANOTHER PROPERTY OWNER AND TAXPAYER.

Supports Edgelow

The attitude of one of our city aldermen to have a showdown with the Canadian Pacific Railway as to their justification of gradually withdrawing from transportation facilities between the Island and the mainland of B.C., interests me.

The original grant mentions 400,000 acres, the coal deposits alone made the Dunsmuirs millionaires, so the late Gordon Sloan who advised the B.C. government to purchase the then remaining portion of the original grant for $108,000,000 seems to an ordinary moss-back farmer a very attractive and conservative figure for the purchasers.

The original land grant given to the CPR by the federal government of every odd numbered section of land, excepting 11 and 29, reserved for school purposes, within a radius of 20 miles on each side of the mainline survey of the CPR turned out to be a wonderful boost and source of income for the CPR when sold for farming purposes, the CPR retaining the mineral rights on such negotiated land. Though the whole railway system is dieselized, so far as I know, no producing oil wells on CPR mineral rights operated laid supply their own needs.

Exception from taxation was another contribution the CPR enjoyed through the prairie provinces though in Saskatchewan, Tommy C. Douglas did manage to have taxes apply on branch lines, but none apply, so far as I know, in Manitoba and Alberta and the centre of Winnipeg, with the greatest mileage of track in any city of this American continent, has exemption from taxes, so it is time the people squawked.

To Alderman Geoffrey Edgelow: keep on with the good work, for, to me, the job requires a man who can talk with a loud voice, who also carries a big stick, to get the proper results.

Mentally Disturbed

The millions of persons who at times are mentally disturbed or have a loved relative who is disturbed will find hope in the splendid article on the family treatment of psychoses, prepared for a recent number of The Saturday Evening Post by my good friends, Milton and Margaret Silverman.

Alvarez

They tell of the recent revolution in psychiatric practice. After 40 years of refusal to face the obvious fact that many disturbed persons have much trouble at home, trying to adjust to the vagaries and scoldings of one or more relatives, many psychiatrists are at last changing their way of practice and are beginning to insist that the patient bring his relatives to the interviews at the office.

Usually these relatives protest that they are all right, and need no help, but when they come in, and perhaps one of them promptly gets into a bitter argument with the patient, it becomes obvious that some of the persons in the home need psychiatric treatment almost as much as does the man (or woman).

Then the psychiatrist may see that the unhappy patient cannot get well or stay well until his odd relatives have been taught to stop annoying him, or accusing him of having cost them much money because of "his foolishness." The family must learn to help the doctor and not to hamper him in his work.

This "family treatment" marks now a decided reversal of psychiatric policy. During the last 20 years or more, I have talked to a number of wives of mentally disturbed men who had gone to be psychoanalyzed. When without much study of the situation the analyst said to the man, "Your troubles are all due to your wife," the poor woman hurried to see the analyst to find out wherein she had failed.

As she said, if she was in the wrong, she was anxious to mend her ways and to help in bringing about her husband's recovery. But in every one of the cases in which I was later consulted, the analyst set out word that on principle he would not see the wife and would not discuss her husband's problem with her. I know very well that there is some sense to this because the husband and wife are likely to twist the psychiatrist's words so as to make it appear that he was in sympathy with them. It is dangerous to talk to the two separately and much safer to talk to them together.

According to the authorities quoted by the Silvermans, the results of the new family group treatment are not always spectacular, but in many cases they are much better than are those obtainable by treating the patient alone. I am happy to hear about this new method of treatment because for half a century I have been using it successfully. I have always talked to members of the family to see what they are like and to get them to co-operate with me. Hundreds of times I have almost cured a patient by getting an unreasonable father or mother to "lay off of him," and treat him with more kindness and sympathy and understanding.

My life-long research in this field of medicine began in 1912 when into my office came two emotionally disturbed women, each with a mentally retarded child. I soon found that one of these women had an insane sister, a mentally retarded sister and a badly adjusted brother; the other woman had an alcoholic brother, a "town drunk" uncle and an asexual sister.

These people got me so interested in the different ways in which a tendency to mental troubles can show up in the several members of three or four generations in a family that I kept making notes, and in 1958 I published a big book on what actually happened in the way of neuroses and psychoses to the members of 673 families I had come to know well (Practical Leads to Puzzling Diagnoses—Lippincott).

This book is so full of fascinating information about the many interesting symptoms or illness that can show up in the "relatives of the psychotic" that it would be of great help to the new "school" of psychiatrists who are now treating the oddities of the relatives of their patients.

Obviously, all persons who are so mentally disturbed or poorly adjusted that they feel the need of medical help should try to find the type of either old-fashioned or "new-fashioned" psychiatrist who will gladly interview and study the whole family, and will plead with the more eccentric and difficult and irritable relatives to calm down and stop nagging at the patient.

In my last book, Minds That Came Back (Lippincott), I told of men who, when they went home after discharge from a mental hospital, soon returned to it, saying that they were much happier with their old buddies in the convalescent ward than with their parents and brothers at home!

Often the patient's family doctor can say which of the several psychiatrists in the city is most likely to help in this new and sensible way.

Tiniest Dose Of Radiation Hits Heredity

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—

A United Nations report on atomic radiation Sunday advanced the theory that even the tiniest doses of radiation cause some hereditary damage in human beings.

The 442-page volume, prepared by the 15-nation scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation, said recent studies also had shown that low doses may have some immediate effects on exposed individuals, especially on unborn babies.

The committee expressed concern over unnecessary exposure caused by improper or excessive use of X-ray, fluoroscopes, radioactive isotopes and other medical devices involving radiation. It called for immediate world-wide action to reduce such exposure to a minimum.

It also agreed—with U.S. and Soviet scientists concurring—on the desirability of ending nuclear test explosions.

High blood pressure may be an indication of kidney disease, glandular trouble or emotional disturbance.

Tour Strengthens De Gaulle Position

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle was back home today from a six-day state visit to West Germany that appeared to have strengthened his hand against domestic opponents of his policy on Europe.

De Gaulle, in a telegram on his arrival here Sunday night to West German President Heinrich Lübke, pronounced himself "touched to the bottom of my heart" by the enthusiastic receptions he received in Bonn, Düsseldorf, Duisburg, Hamburg, Munich and Stuttgart.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville described the trip as "extraordinary and exceptional." He added that its object was "to submit the policy of the French and German governments to the people for approval."

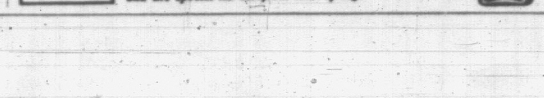

This policy, as de Gaulle stressed again and again before German audiences, is that Franco-German co-operation "in the largest possible number of fields" is the keystone of a united Europe.

After that, he has said, can Get FAST FAST Relief from Ear Wax Problems with...

Use gentle fast acting Hear/Hear to rinse away deep impacted wax quickly and painlessly. Irritating itching and pressure pain may be caused by excess cerumen with resultant loss of hearing. Hear/Hear starts to work immediately to emulsify ear wax so it can be rinsed away.

WHY TAKE CHANCES? Don't pick or probe with pencil, paper clip, finger nail or bobby pin—permanent damage can result. A few drops of soothing Hear/Hear dissolves your ear wax problems, without instrumentation and may be used effectively in the most sensitive ear canal. Ask your Pharmacist for Hear/Hear and the special kit complete with syringe.

Follow Rules for Flower Show

There are plenty of surprises for visitors to the fall vegetable and flower shows.

After all the complaining most of us gardeners have been doing about the summer weather we find that the entries of tree fruits, root crops, chrysanthemums and dahlias are of sufficiently high quality to earn extra praise from the judges.

This should be encouragement for many to try exhibiting for the first time in the shows and fairs still to come.

For a complete schedule and entry form enabling you to enter the show this week of the Victoria Horticultural Society, phone right away to the secretary, G. A. Wiggan, at GR 7-3265. He will mail you a copy and there will just be time to return the entry form to him by Wednesday. Membership in the society is not necessary for exhibiting, but it's quite likely you will want to join before your first show is over. It is a lively organization.

New exhibitors should start reading the schedule at page 23, and then turn back to pages 2 and 3 for the general rules; then read the individual rules governing the various sections and classes.

Possibly most prizes are lost to new exhibitors and disappointment caused by entering the wrong number of items in a class. For instance, where three blooms of African marigolds are required there is everything to be lost by entering four blooms. And African marigolds are not the same as the flower we lovingly call the Scotch marigold! The number of bean pods and tomatoes must be carefully checked.

With the fine points taken care of, you will begin to enjoy the show as you rarely do as a non-participant. You become a part of it, you have contributed to it as an exhibitor.

Since we cannot all be exhibitors, there is fortunately a vast amount of pleasure reserved for those who visit the show to reveal in the presentation of autumn glory.

Chrysanthemums (all outdoor grown), dahlias of new and wonderful colors and forms, a general section for various classes of annual and perennial flowering plants, the fruit and vegetable section, and the artistic arrangement section—each will have its devotees.

For the gardeners who want to see something different for their fall planting, there will be a broad selection of suitable plants shown by local nurserymen. Fertilizers, garden tools and other equipment will also be shown.

All in all, it looks as though this could be the biggest and best show ever staged by the Victoria Horticultural Society.

It will be in the Curling Rink on Quadra Street, Friday and Saturday of this week. Admission still only 50 cents. No charge for children.

Ex-Polish PM Dies

LONDON (AP)—Gen. Felician Skladkowski, 77, premier of Poland at the outbreak of the Second World War, has died in London, friends announced Sunday.

A special message to all parents of boys and girls now in high school

You can guarantee your youngster's College Education in partnership with MY BANK

BANK OF MONTREAL UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN
Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four equal annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each

OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS
Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE
If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME
See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University—or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Now see for yourself how Super Shell's 9 ingredients give your car top performance.

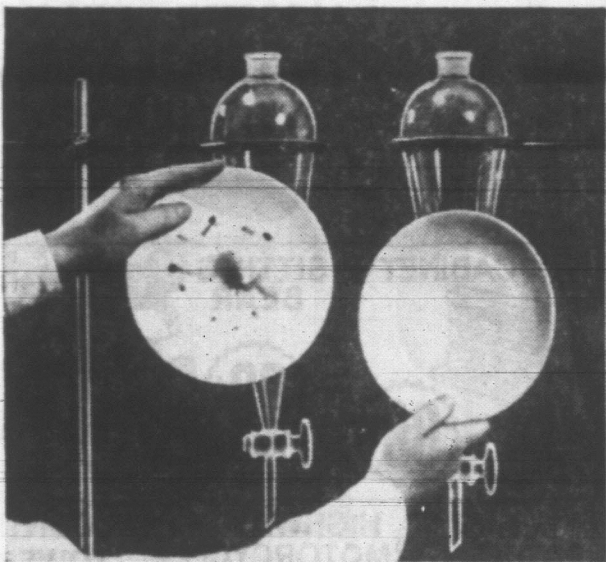

1 World champion driver uses Super Shell. Today's blend includes vital power ingredient. Phil Hill (above, in Ferrari sports racing car) is the World Grand Prix racing champion. Hill relies on Super Shell. One important reason: power. Today's Super Shell contains "cat-cracked" gasoline—a power ingredient made by cracking heavier petroleum molecules into lighter, livelier ones. It works to give you the power you need for top performance.

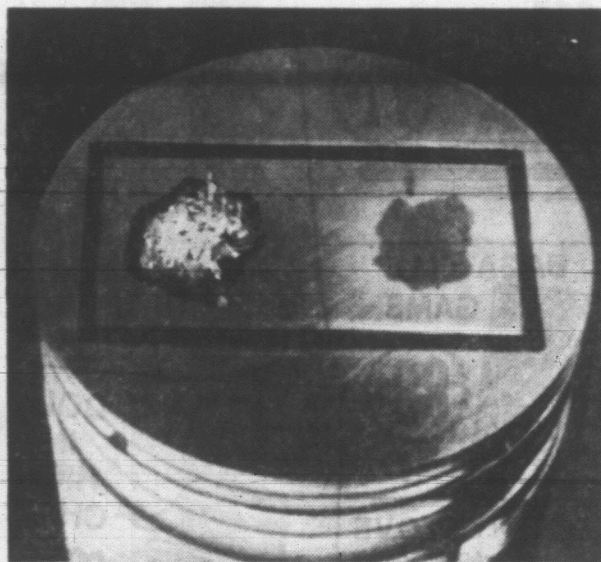

2 Butane boiling on ice reveals secret of Super Shell's quick starts. The butane bubbling in our picture is rapidly changing to vapour—the way water turns to steam when it boils. Butane's ability to vaporize at low temperatures helps Super Shell gasoline give you quick starts on coldest mornings. Gasoline must vaporize to start your engine—and the colder the weather, the more difficult it is for gasoline to vaporize. With butane, fast vaporization—and quick starts.

3-4 Prairie tests at 35° below check Super Shell's fast warm-up ingredient. Super Shell contains mixed penanes to help speed the warm-up process. A cold engine can waste fuel. Wear faster, too. In chilly, damp weather, Super Shell also contains a carburetor defroster to prevent stalls caused by carburetor icing. Picture shows Super Shell being checked for top performance in Manitoba—at 35° below zero.

5 "Plate" test shows how Super Shell's gum preventive works. In time, gum can form in even the purest gasoline. If gum forms in your engine, it can cause trouble. Shell scientists fight gum formation with skilful processing and a gum preventive. In the lab, two gasolines were evaporated to check for gum. Raw unprocessed gasoline without gum preventive deposited gum (left). Processed gasoline with Super Shell's gum preventive (right) left virtually no trace of gum.

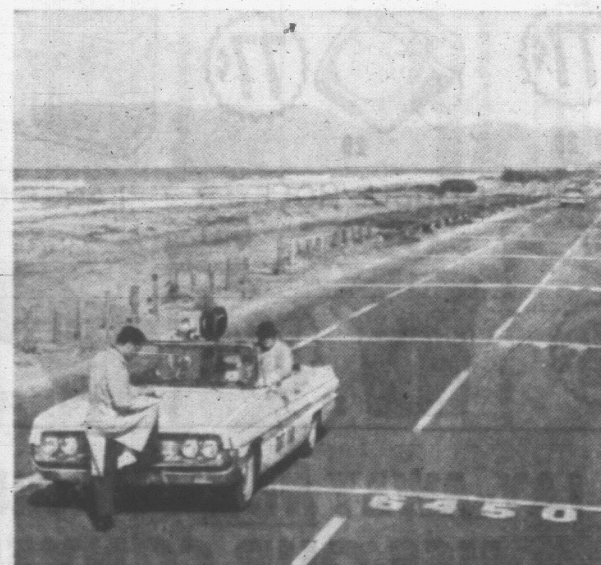

6 Hot piston shows how Shell's TCP* counteracts harmful deposits. All cars develop combustion chamber deposits. Picture shows two deposits on a sizzling piston. Glowing deposit at left has not been neutralized with TCP. In your engine, glowing deposits can ignite fuel too soon—causing roughness, power loss. Deposit on right has been "fire-proofed" by TCP. With TCP in action, no power-robbing glow. Helps your engine respond smoothly and powerfully.

7-8 Stethoscope helps Shell scientists check effect of two Super Shell anti-knock ingredients. Shell scientists know that the slightest hint of knock could mean trouble inside your engine. Super Shell fights knock with an anti-knock mix so effective that a teaspoonful per gallon can boost anti-knock rating five points. Heavy alkanes, another Super Shell ingredient, are noted for controlling knock in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

9 Super Shell's mileage ingredient delivers a mileage bonus of 4.32 percent. Super Shell's mileage ingredient is called Platformate. Shell scientists test it regularly—in different types of cars, in different places. Here's how they ran the tests shown above. Exactly 250 c.c. (about half a pint) of gasoline blended without Platformate was fed into the test car. The car was started, accelerated to 30 miles per hour, then held there until fuel ran out and it coasted to a stop. Distance travelled: 6186 feet (left). Then the test was repeated (right), using the same fuel with Platformate added. Exact same total amount of fuel. Same car. Same speed. Same driver. Same conditions. This time the distance travelled was 6454 feet. 4.32 per cent further with Platformate. Or more than four extra miles in every hundred. A nice little bonus.

Super Shell, the gasoline with 9 ingredients for power, mileage and quiet-running—top performance

Must Take Risks With New Drugs

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI)

A leading British drug manufacturer said today people calling for nothing less than complete safety for new drugs were "crying for the moon."

There had to be "some degree of risk" with all new drugs, said J. C. Hanbury in his chairman's address to the British Pharmaceutical conference.

There had been repeated examples of drugs of utmost value, even penicillin itself, which have brought life and health to the vast majority, but serious trouble to a small minority, he said.

Hanbury also mentioned vaccination against smallpox, where a serious risk to a tiny minority is considered worth taking in the interests of the majority.

Even "such homey medicines as aspirin are by no means without risk for some people," he said.

Noting the case of thalidomide, the sedative which is suspected of causing the birth of many deformed babies, Hanbury said "most pharmacologists maintain that in the light of previous experience, this was an occurrence which could not reasonably have been anticipated" in view of all that was known about the toxicity of the drug.

In future, more specific tests would need to be devised to eliminate harmful effects on unborn children, he said.

Nine-Year-Old Boy Injured in Bike Crash

An East Saanich boy is in St. Joseph's Hospital, "fairly good" condition with a fractured skull today after the 16th Road just north of Island View when his bike swung suddenly in front of a truck driven by Terry Wood, nine, of 7069 East Saanich Road, was taken

Police said the bike's front wheel was knocked off. Another cyclist involved in a crash with a car Saturday was 15-year-old David Bentley, of 2785 Lansdowne. He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital by Mrs. E. G. Booth, 953 Hampshire, after he was in collision at Oak Bay and Richmond with a car driven by Oregon visitor Alvin E. Berg. The boy was treated for face cuts and released.

FOURTH GAME TONIGHT

Juniors Ready To Serve Up Repeat Dose

Victoria 12, Brampton 13

Brampton Excelsiors are planning to have more of the same medicine ready for Victoria Shamrocks tonight, which apparently meets the approval of the Rocks.

It should certainly please the fans.

Excelsiors dished up the medicine at Memorial Arena Saturday night as they grabbed a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Canadian junior lacrosse final. The magic potion was merely lacrosse at its best — fast, alert, sometimes brilliant lacrosse — and it carried the eastern champions to a thrilling, 13-12 overtime triumph.

And it had to be a superb brand of boxla to turn back the Shamrocks, who were just as brilliant and could possibly pin blame for the loss on two reasons — letting excitement get best of their judgment in the fourth quarter, and failing to guard against Brampton's fast break.

Saturday's game was a spectator's dream. Excelsiors, following coach Larry Kendall's orders, forgot about the senseless rough play that earned them a flock of penalties in the second game and helped Shamrocks chalk up a 2-3 triumph. The Irish followed suit and the result was a thrill-a-minute tussle, loaded with fine passing and spectacular scoring plays.

Shamrocks perhaps would have won with cooler actions after breaking an 8-8 deadlock in the fourth period. Two goals by diminutive Nirmal Dillon and one by John Serinak gave them an 11-8 lead.

Rocks' Bid to Pad Lead Backfires

Tall Grant Heffernan, again a standout performer, got one back but Victoria had a two-goal bulge with less than three minutes in regulation time. Then, excitedly trying for more goals when they should have been thinking more of ball control, they twice caught with men up the floor after losing the ball.

Heffernan made the play for a goal by McCauley and then whipped in for the tying tally on a three-on-one break at 13:45.

Brampton scored first in the hectic overtime session, Norm Bignell stepping out of the penalty box to snag a pass in the open and race in for a scoring shot.

Shamrocks got that one back when Bill Munroe fired a power-play goal while McCauley was sitting out a penalty. McCauley made amends 25 seconds later, breaking up the floor behind the Victoria defence, taking a pass and firing the winner as he tumbled past the goal.

Kendall doesn't plan to change a thing when the clubs resume hostilities tonight at 8:30.

"We'll play it the same way," he said today. "We play our best when we're running and I think I've got the team running pretty good now."

Heffernan, Collett Cause Concern

Victoria coaches Tommy Druce and Ron Jay also think their Rocks go best in a running game and hope it works out that way.

"I think we'll beat them tonight," Jay said. "We blew that one Saturday. The boys were going for the ball instead of watching their checks. But they know what they did wrong and they'll be watching for that fast break."

"They're raring to go." Two injuries are causing some concern. Heffernan, who twisted an ankle in the overtime session, says he'll be able to get at top speed.

Collett, suffering from a severe thigh bruise, was unable to run properly Saturday and the Rocks missed him on their odd-man play. Collett hopes to play tonight but will be a doubtful starter until just before game time.

COPS PREMIER'S

Blue Hawk Wins When It Counts

Blue Hawk hadn't hit the winner's circle in his previous 10 attempts but he won when it counted Saturday at Exhibition Park.

Coming from the clouds, Blue Hawk wheeled past the Fancy-Dans in the stretch to win the $10,000 B.C. Premier's Championship before 9,932 delighted and screaming patrons.

Lightly regarded at 7-1, Blue Hawk enriched his owners, the Chilliwack 101 Stable, by $8,850 in the richest Premier's ever.

Junior Ballardier, owned by Dave Diamond, was second two lengths back. Sternson was third and Maxinkuckee, the early pacesetter, fourth. They earned $2,000, $1,000 and $500 for their respective owners.

The vast Saturday throng established the Seattle invader Combthrift as the hot even-money favorite. But this four-year-old, boasting impressive races in California and at Longacres, failed to grab the lead from Maxinkuckee and ultimately wilted under his 125-pound impost.

At Fernandez, sitting tight on Blue Hawk behind the brisk pace, let the seven-year-old bay go on the last turn and that was it. Junior Ballardier, said his rider Charley Ulrich, "had no excuses—the winner was just too much for us."

At Chicago, Candy Spots, a supplementary entry, won the $357,250 Washington-Arlington Futurity, the world's richest race, with Willie Shoemaker aboard. Never Bend, the favorite, was second and Rash Prince, third. Manuel Yeaza, aboard Never Bend, claimed a foul against a horse that finished out of the money, but it was disallowed. Instead the Illinois Racing Commission suspended Yeaza for making a "frivolous claim."

At New York's Aqueduct, Smart Deb made it seven wins in a row by taking the $102,760 Matron Stakes. Fashion Verdict was second and Affectionately, the 35 favorite and winner of nine of her 10 starts, was third.

(Results on page 7)

SWEET MOMENT for Junior Shamrock supporters Carol Stevens (left) and Judy Ryan came when Victoria club scored overtime goal. But it wasn't always thus. Brampton scored later to pull from behind and win

13-12 thriller that gives Excelsiors 2-1 lead in best-of-seven Canadian junior lacrosse final. Fourth game will be played at Memorial Arena tonight, starting at 8:30. (Ryan Brothers photo.)

Wills' Fleet Feet Help Dodgers Maintain Pace

By Associated Press

Because Maury Wills, son of a Washington minister, refuses to adhere to the commandment "Thou shalt not steal," Los Angeles Dodgers are still in first place in the National League race by half a step.

That was just about all Wills needed Sunday as he stole three more bases and helped the Dodgers defeat Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3 to protect their half-game lead over San Francisco Giants, who beat Chicago Cubs 5-4.

The Dodgers' mercury-footed shortstop, staging a one-man show before 37,594 fans at Los Angeles, hit three singles in four at-bats, stole second each time and scored twice. His three hits gave him nine in his last 12 at-bats. His three stolen bases gave him eight in his last three games and 25 in his last 22.

NEEDS 11 MORE

With 86 stolen bases in 144 games, Wills needs 11 more to top Ty Cobb's modern major league record of 96 set with Detroit Tigers in 1915. The Tigers played 156 games that year. The Dodgers have 18 left in their 162-game schedule.

Cincinnati's third-place Reds fell 5½ games off the pace and virtually out of the race by losing a 5-3 decision to St. Louis when the Cardinals scored five runs in the ninth inning, four on Carl Sawatski's grand-slam homer.

YANKS BOW TWICE

If the New York Yankees played two games every day, they might be holding up the American League instead of heading it.

The Yankees dropped a pair to Boston Red Sox Sunday, 9-3 and 5-4 in 16 innings, for their eighth double-header loss this season. They have split 10 and swept only three.

All-Stars Give United Stiff Tune-Up Test

Victoria United, due to open the Pacific Coast Soccer League next Saturday at Vancouver, got a stiff tune-up test Sunday at Central Park.

United squeezed home with a 3-2 win over a Victoria and District Soccer League all-star club in an interesting match that could have gone either way.

Mel Cooper, making his first appearance with the Coast League squad, produced the game-winning goal at 37 minutes of the second half after the stars had twice come from behind to knot the count.

UBC's Big Eight Sixth—and Last!

German oarsmen captured five gold medals at the world rowing championships which wound up Sunday while the Soviet Union and France collected one apiece.

The strong German contingent won gold medals in the coxed and coxless pairs, the coxed and coxless fours and in the big eights which saw Canada, represented by the University of British Columbia, finish sixth and last.

The Germans also took a bronze medal in the double sculls. The Soviet Union won the single sculls when Olympic gold medalist Viatcheslav Ivanov set a Rotsee Lake record in 7:07.09, bettering the previous time of 7:11.7 made by Switzerland earlier this year.

The French crew of Rene Duhamel and Bernard Monnerau won the double sculls, with the Soviet Union second and the Germans third.

UBC oarsmen were entered in three events in the championships—the big eights, the coxless fours and the coxless pairs. They managed to reach the finals in the big eights only.

The German crew won the eights final in 5:50.83, followed by the Soviet Union in 5:53.56, France in 5:55.36, Italy in 5:57.10, Australia in 5:58.85 and Canada in 6:00.15.

Canadian oarsmen John Leckey and Herbert Chailier of the UBC team finished ninth earlier Sunday in the coxless pairs to determine the placings in the seven-to-12 position. Their time was 7:13.64.

Also finishing ninth in 6:30.48 in the coxless fours were UBC oarsmen Roy McIntosh, Thomas Stokes, Thomas Gray and Eldon Worobieff.

Nobby Still Waiting For Season to Open

Apathetic Argos Clawed 37-21 By Hungry Lions

TORONTO (CP)—When Nobby Wirkowski took over as coach of Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Football Conference, the team had lost three times in three starts.

Said Wirkowski: "The season is about to begin."

Today, two games later, Argos have lost five in a row. Nobby is still waiting for the season to open.

British Columbia Lions socked Argos 37-21 in a Canadian Football League interlocking game here Sunday before 22,254 fans who weren't often excited.

The loss almost killed Toronto's playoff hopes. Argos are five points behind the third-place Montreal Alouettes. The Lions moved from the Western Conference cellar to a third-place tie with Edmonton Eskimos, only one point behind the second-place Calgary Stampeders.

When the Lions had finished with Argos, Wirkowski accused some of his men of being "too fat and too well paid." He hinted that sweeping changes will be made after a practice tonight.

"We'll go with the pads," Nobby said. "No more sweat suits. Some of these fellows aren't hungry enough anymore."

May Make Changes

The rookie coach also called a workout for Tuesday morning. The team hasn't held morning practices since training camp.

Lurking in the background are six hulking recruits from the National and American football leagues. All were late-cuts who are trying for jobs with Toronto.

Several Argos are said to be on thin ice, including such former stalwarts as halfback-flanker Dave Mann and tackles Billy Shipp and Walt Radzick.

Willie Fleming scored two touchdowns for the Lions and Gary Schneider scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and three converts. Bob Schloredt kicked a single and Nub Beamer and Tom Larscheid scored the other touchdowns.

For Argos, Dick Shatto scored two touchdowns and rookie Joe Hernandez scored the other.

Argos Look Bad

The most talked about play was the last play of the first half with the Lions leading 8-7. Schneider, trying for a field goal, hit the upright. Argos stood around watching as Schneider swooped in to grab the ball on the Argo three-yard line and carry it over for the touchdown.

Defensively, the Lions were strong. Linebacker Norm Fieldgate intercepted three passes. Schneider was a defensive standout.

Toronto started with newcomer Pete Hall calling the signals, but Hall couldn't get them rolling and veteran Tobin Rote took over. Rote, who missed a game because of a broken index finger on his passing hand, mustered a Toronto attack in the fourth quarter but it was too late.

B.C. quarterback Joe Kapp passed for two touchdowns, 38 yards to Larscheid and 16 yards to Fleming.

Kapp completed 12 of 22 passes. Hall, who ran well, completed only four of 10 and Rote was 11 for 19.

"We didn't hit anybody hard enough to get hurt," said the disgruntled Wirkowski.

Ward Top Driver In Auto Classic

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Rodger Ward, winner of this year's 500-mile classic at Indianapolis, roared to victory Saturday in record time in a 100-mile United States Auto Club championship race at the State Fairgrounds.

The veteran Indianapolis driver averaged 95.71 miles an hour, bettering his own track record of 95.09, which he set in winning the event last year.

A. J. Hoyt, of Houston, was second and Troy Ruttman, of Dearborn, Mich., was third.

Wylie's Return Pleases Stamps

EDMONTON (CP)—A year ago Tommy-Joe Coffey gave up football for a business career and Harvey Wylie seriously contemplated retirement despite his all-star safety ranking.

But both decided to give football another whirl prior to the 1962 Western Conference season and each came up with a dazzling performance Saturday night as Calgary Stampeders defeated Edmonton Eskimos 17-12 before 15,400 fans.

Three times in the last half Wylie returned punts from his Stamper end zone on what looked like sure Edmonton singles. He finished by deflecting the ball away from Edmonton's Coffey at the Calgary goal line on the last play of the game.

Coffey, who has scored 69 of Edmonton's 123 points this season, carried the ball five times for 21 yards and caught seven of 11 passes thrown his way for 123 yards in a losing cause. He scored a touchdown on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Don Getty, converted it and kicked an 11-yard field goal.

The Stampeders broke a scoreless battle with 10 points in the second quarter and led 10-1 entering a tension-packed final quarter. Quarterback Eagle Day passed for two touchdowns, the first a 17-yard strike in the second to rookie half Jim Dillard of Oklahoma State and the second a sensational 75-yard pass-and-run play to half Ed Buchanan late in the final quarter.

Halfback Larry Robinson converted both touchdowns and kicked a field goal from the Edmonton 14.

End Vic Chapman kicked a third-quarter single from the Calgary 31 and end Jim Letcavits was credited with a single when he fumbled into the Calgary end zone and the ball was recovered by Calgary to round out the Edmonton scoring.

Singles or Doubles Quillian Is There

Bill Quillian, top-ranked men's singles player in the Pacific Northwest Lawn Tennis Association ranks for several years, also has something of a monopoly on the doubles crown.

Quillian made it three straight titles Sunday at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club as he worked with southpaw Jack Lowe for a triumph in the 16th annual PNWLA invitational men's doubles championship.

The Seattle partners made a steady return of service pay off as they defeated Portland veterans Emery Neale and Sam Lee, 11-9, 1-6, 6-2, in a final that produced some brilliant tennis.

Lowe and Quillian defeated the same rivals for the title in 1960 and last year Quillian, a six-three athlete with a blazing service and strong forehand, shared the championship with Seattle's Bill Burley.

The flight final in the two-day, 20-team tourney also proved to be a fan-pleasing marathon.

Coming out on top were Claude Heckley, a 49-year-old who won his first net title 37

Victoria Hornets have been making some of them too close for comfort, but they still own an undefeated record in the Fraser Valley Junior Football League.

Running out in front with four victories and a tie in five starts, the hard-hitting Hornets got a scare from Surrey Rams at Macdonald Park Sunday before chalking up a 23-19 victory.

Trailing 17-19 with three minutes remaining, they needed a sensational touchdown effort by quarterback Dave Heywood and halfback Bruce McFarlane.

Swinging out on an option play, Heywood elected to run. He scampered for 10 yards and then lateraled to McFarlane, who dashed another 45 yards for the winning score.

It was the second major score for McFarlane, who went over for the converted touchdown midway in the third quarter that gave Hornets a 17-6 lead.

Rams, who had dropped behind 10-0 in the opening half, caught fire in the third quarter. They scored one touchdown before McFarlane's first major and then boomed back for two more, one converted, and appeared likely winners before Heywood and McFarlane combined for the winning play.

Barrie Neff kicked a field goal for Hornets in the opening quarter and later booted two conversions. Heywood picked up his first touchdown in the second period.

Ballard, with two, and Morris scored Chilliwack touchdowns and Ballard added a conversion.

Hornets will be looking for a bit of revenge when they make their next start at Macdonald Park next Sunday. Providing the opposition will be Chilliwack, which held Hornets to a tie on the mainland and snapped Victoria's victory skelp.

Chilliwack and Richmond played to a 7-7 tie in a game played Sunday at Chilliwack. Standings:

Victoria	4	0	1	30	23
Richmond	2	2	1	161	34
Chilliwack	0	3	2	37	124

They'll decide the championship of the Victoria and District Cricket Association in one match.

Tangling for the title at Beacon Hill next Sunday will be Albion and Five Cs, who finished in a first-place tie after completing their scheduled games.

Albions forced the playoff Saturday as they got a brilliant effort from Don Hughes and trimmed Oak Bay by 44 runs.

Hughes took seven wickets for only nine runs and then batted for 24 as Albion ran up a total of 72 runs, despite a five-for-23 performance by Oak Bay bowler Allan Wright.

Oak Bay was all out for 28. Winner of next Sunday's match plays the mainland league champions for the Tomlin Cup.

Standings:

Albion	12	9	1	8	14
Five Cs	12	9	2	40	35
Ingos	12	7	5	35	35
Oak Bay	11	4	7	29	29
Cowichan	11	4	7	29	29
Alons	12	2	10	19	19

Carol Hay established a new record of 28 minutes, 37 seconds in winning the ladies' division of a 10-mile time trial staged Sunday by the Victoria Cycling Club.

Ken Hay, with a time of 24:17, beat out Hank Wouters of Nanaimo for men's honors while Mike Rasmussen topped the junior boys (25:41) and Heather Wilson won the junior girls' race (30:32).

It was the second straight week that Carol Hay scored a record-breaking victory.

BIG VICTORY was scored at Portland Sunday by Victoria driver Bill Foster (above), who captured Portland "200" for modified sports cars. Second in Pacific Coast championship race was Portland's Bob Grebb. Third was Don Walker, Seattle.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — When the incentives and prizes are big, 22-year-old Jack Nicklaus appears to be the boss of golf in the United States.

He may have replaced Arnold Palmer as pharaoh of the fairways Sunday when he won the first world series of golf, leaving Palmer and Gary Player of Johannesburg four strokes in the wake of his birdies and pars.

The sensational rookie from Columbus, Ohio, in his first year as a professional, increased his 1962 earnings to more than $100,000 by picking up the first-place cheque of $50,000. Palmer, first-day leader by a stroke over Nicklaus and four over Player, had to settle for a second-place tie with the South African. Each won $12,500.

None of the money won here, however, counts on the official money-winning list compiled by the U.S. Professional Golfers Association because the event was rated an exhibition. Palmer remains the leader in money earned this year with more than $80,000, a single-season record.

Palmer, putting sensationally, had torn the 7,165-yard Firestone course apart in Saturday's first round with a 65, matching the course record. But he found himself only a stroke ahead of Nicklaus, who carved out a 66. In Sunday's 18-hole stretch drive Palmer three-putted the first two greens and hit a shot into a lake on the third. Nicklaus moved in front to stay. He clinched the big prize with a birdie putts of 12 and 18 feet on the 10th and 11th holes, and put the frosting on the cake with an 18-foot birdie putt on the 36th hole for a closing 69. Palmer soared to 74. Player matched par 70.

Nicklaus hasn't been out of the money in any of the tournaments this year, but he has won only two events—the U.S. Open and the world series.

In his victory drive Nicklaus had eight birdies and three over-par holes and: Palmer seven birdies and six over-par holes. Player had four birds and went one over regulation figures on three holes.

Palmer's putter, usually his most potent weapon, failed him this time. He had four three-put greens Sunday. Player and Nicklaus had only one for the entire 36-hole stretch.

Player, referring to Nicklaus, summed it up this way for reporters:

"You gentlemen saw one of the greatest out there today. He's not only a long hitter—the longest in the game today—but some of his iron shots were miraculous. He's as good a putter as there is around just now. He'll be a headliner for a long time and could put together the greatest career the game has ever known. He has everything."

The Jones family kept Victoria Bowmen in the title picture at the recent B.C. archery championships at Nanaimo.

Lil Jones was a double winner, claiming free-style honors in both field and target events, while husband Frank pinned the target free-style championship on the Jones' trophy wall.

Other event winners included Hans Olausen of Victoria and Jackie Sutherland of Duncan.

Harold Jacobsen captured the B.C. left-handed title at Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club Sunday, winding up the two-day tourney on his home course with a 36-hole total of 153, 13 over par.

Winning the low-net division of the southpaw swingers' annual tourney was Portland's Norm Elledge, who posted a net 142.

In the senior division, Lee Peterson of Mount Vernon, Wash., triumphed with 161. Ken Parks, Oakland, Calif., was the low-net leader in the senior class with a net 162.

The team trophy went to Vancouver's Seymour Golf Club trio of Elmer Scott, Gordon Bell and Earl Noble.

Other winners:

First Division—Low gross, Dan Morgan, Seattle; low net, Gordon Bell, Vancouver.

Second Division—Low gross, Bill Gilmore, Vancouver; low net, Eric Jervia, Vancouver.

MONTEHERREY, Mexico — Manuel Alvarez, 19, Argentina, outpointed Curtis Cooper, 145, Texas, 18.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Willie Pastrano, 184, Miami, outpointed Rudolph Diaz, 196, Argentina, 18.

Victoria clubs ran into trouble, but opening games suggested a tight race for honors in the Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League.

Oak Bay's Farmer Construction club, the defending league champion, and Victoria Vampires were both bounced by up-island teams as a new season got under way Sunday.

Farmers dropped a 14-8 decision to Campbell River Raiders at Carnarvon Park, and Vampires were downed 19-12 by the Redmen at Nanaimo.

Vampires staged a stirring fourth-quarter drive after a shaky start while the Bays dropped behind after packing a slim lead into the final period.

Denny Begford reeled off a long touchdown run to put the Raiders ahead in the opening quarter and the 2-0 margin

Official attempts to crack Canadian age-group records for a 50-yard pool will be made Wednesday night by members of the YMCA "Flying Y" Swimming Club.

Due to hit the water at Crystal Garden around 5 p.m. are Brenda Aylward, Brian Pearce, Brian Hunter and a relay team.

FIRST-OF-ITS KIND to be built on this coast is this all-aluminum craft built by McKay, Cormack Ltd. of Victoria for the Royal Canadian Navy and launched on the weekend. Thirty-six feet in length, the ultra-light craft will go on board the supply ship Cape Breton at Esquimalt. It will be used to ferry men and supplies from the Cape Breton to various units of the fleet on this coast. Three similar craft have been built in eastern Canada. (Times photo.)

515 ANIMALS AT DUNCAN

Fair Sets New Record

Vancouver Island livestock breeders showed their appreciation of fine new agricultural buildings and grounds at Duncan by entering a record total of 515 animals in the annual two-day Cowichan Fall Fair which concluded Saturday.

Under sunny skies, in a typical country fair atmosphere, spectators watched the showing and judging of cattle, horses, sheep and swine from many of the south island's lush farms.

Competition among boys and girls representing 4-H groups was keen, and sheep dog trials with entries from Salt Spring Island and the Fraser Valley were an extra attraction.

Woodwyn Farm in West Saanich scored the champion Angus bull and cow. George Tatten of Sooke won the champion Shorthorn bull honors, and best Shorthorn cow rating went to Bill Turner, Saanich. Entry totals, well up over last year's, according to fair officials, saw 72 Jerseys listed, 21 Holsteins, 26 Shorthorns, 18 Angus, 21 Guernseys, 34 Ayrshires, 84 light horses, 24 Herefords, and 50 swine.

Among 411 junior farmers who entered a bumper 82 animals, Joan Youell of Saanich Jersey Calf Club won the Haugland Trophy for showmanship. Joan is one of four calf club members chosen to attend the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto in November. At Pacific National Exhibition she took top 4-H showman honors for the second year in a row.

CATTLE ENTRIES
Other winning cattle entries were:

Champion Holstein bull, J. A. Judge and Sons, Victoria; champion Holstein cow, Dr. L. Barty, Saanich.

Champion Jersey bull, A. W. Aylard and Sons, Sidney; champion Jersey cow, H. Standen, Cowichan Station.

Top score in the horse show went to Saanich rider C. C. Carpenter with his handsome thoroughbred, Ab's Boy.

Sheep section winners included Denis Levy and A. Loch of Victoria.

The Saanich Home Arts Club composed of Jane Elliott and Roberta Delbruck, won the senior 4-H demonstration competition.

The Luxton Garden Club with Marian McDowell and Louise Simon placed second, while the North Saanich Goat Club was third. The latter was represented by Margie Lord and Elizabeth Howe.

JUNIOR CLUBS
In the junior demonstration competitions, Saanich Home Arts Club represented by Heather Lord and Colleen Kelly placed first.

Runner-up was the South Saanich Goat Club composed of Mary Watson and Greg Colvin, and third Luxton-Poultry with Michael Woodruff and Rob Finney.

Betty Ann Saville, Sidney, won the Archie Stevenson trophy for the best Ayrshire calf.

Lorraine Jameson was awarded the Walker trophy for showmanship in the Cowichan district. She also took first prize for having the best calf in the Cowichan Jersey Club.

In the Holstein Club competition, Fred Barton placed first for having the best yearling.

DANCE COMPETITION
In 4-H square dancing competition, Mrs. Tom O'Reilly's Saanich "Blue Jays" group was judged the best. The team consisted of Joan Youell, Wendy Baker, Rhodena Cronk and Chris Andrews with partners Joan Stanlake, Pat Hoole, Jr., Reg Hoole and Glen Willing.

In the flower section, the only Victorian to win a major award was Mrs. Ann Paskin. She won the Cowichan Exhibition Cup with her entry, "autumn tints."

G. R. Michell, Saanich, took first prize in the field produce class, while the prize for the best honey in the show went to C. M. Moscrip of Victoria.

Border collies worked by William P. Evans, Ganges, came first in sheep herding competitions judged by Michael Williams.

11th Hour Talks Avert Strike Of Tug Boatmen

Strike deadline at 8 a.m. today passed unnoticed as coast towboat operators and crews reached tentative agreement on a new work contract whose terms had threatened to tie up dependent industries.

Last-minute talks Sunday averted a walkout which would have affected about 150 Victoria tugmen employed by Island Tug and Barge Ltd.

Terms of the proposed settlement to halt a strike which could have tied up B.C. coastal towboat operations were not announced.

Four Hurt In Weekend Accidents

City police motorcycle constable Wilfred Rule was knocked from his bike at a busy intersection in one of three weekend accidents sending four people to hospital.

The officer was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for abrasions, examined for broken bones and released.

He turned up for duty later, but was sent home to recover from the experience.

Police traffic officers said a car driven by Mrs. Gwendolyn Higgs, 3018 Westdowne, was going west on Bay and the officer was driving on Quadra when the accident happened at 9:10 p.m.

There was minor damage to motorcycle and car.

HIT POWER POLE
A Saanich couple whose car crashed into a power pole Sunday afternoon are still in Royal Jubilee Hospital with multiple injuries.

Driver Mrs. Margaret Gilman, 47, of 3322 Cedar Hill Road, is "fairly good" with a broken leg and face injuries.

Her husband George, about 50, is described as being in satisfactory condition with head injuries.

Saanich police said the car apparently swung wide on taking a curve at Quadra and Union, breaking off a B.C. Hydro pole.

Anne Kronenberg, 466 Burnside East, was the only person hurt in a four-car, rear-end crash at Trans-Canada Highway and Grange at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The crash involved three drivers living at the same address—466 Burnside East—and one "outsider."

First car in line was driven by Leonardus Vandekamp, the second (in which Miss Kronenberg was passenger) by Bernard Meine, and the third by Leonard Vandekamp.

Fourth car had Gerald Gieskens, 60 Logan Street, at the wheel.

There was about $1,000 total damage.

B.C. Hydro Must Protect Salmon Run

Commission Orders Work On Puntledge

A special inquiry ordered by the B.C. government into the crucial issue of fish versus power has ruled in favor of fish.

The inquiry resulted in an order that B.C. Hydro spend $623,500 on fish protection at its Puntledge River power project near Courtenay.

The recommendation was passed to the cabinet in a report from Public Utilities Commission chairman Dr. H. F. Angus on April 27.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black released the report today.

Dr. Angus was appointed special commissioner to investigate a dispute between B.C. Hydro and the federal department of fisheries.

HEAVY DAMAGE
The fisheries department asked Hydro to carry out the fish protection project, claiming many thousands of dollars of damage to salmon and steelhead since 1955.

Dr. Angus, after a series of public hearings, ruled in favor of fish and said in effect: "This must not happen again."

He said B.C. Hydro should pay the entire cost of constructing fish ladders and a diversion dam.

He also called for legislation providing fish protection in any public power projects in B.C.

Such protection is already stipulated for private projects, he said, but most B.C. hydro development now will be under public ownership.

YEARLY SAVING
Dr. Angus said benefits from the Puntledge protection scheme will total $60,000 a year in saving fish, commercial and sport fishing, and extra generation of power at the Puntledge site.

This is after cost of the project is deducted.

Dr. Angus set the cost at $623,500. B.C. Hydro had claimed it would cost $815,000; Ottawa said it would only be $560,180.

Dr. Angus said the Puntledge dispute served as an illustration of the difficulties of multiple resource development.

"To resolve them may require political or legislative action," he said.

He suggested that B.C. Hydro hire its own fish biologists to study problems raised by its projects.

Thieves Take $570 Proceeds From Car Races

Proceeds from stock-car racing events—totaling $570—were stolen from a parked car after a Langford race meet Saturday night.

Kenneth Kightly of 560 Agnes, a member of Vancouver Island Track Racing Association, told police he had parked his car at Gorge Hotel lot, with the money locked in a blue metal cashbox in the trunk compartment.

The theft was estimated to have taken place between 10:30 and midnight.

Civic Precinct Plans Progress

California Here They Came

Two 18-year-old Victorians helped a B.C. team win top place in the intermediate class of an important international horse show in California.

Jean Dunbar, 1007 Joan Crescent, riding her own horse Seven Up, was the individual intermediate class winner at the three-day competition which ended Sunday in Pebble Beach, Calif.

Miss Dunbar and Pat Donaldson, 1536 Arrow, formed half of the B.C. team which won first place in the intermediate class after beating out top riding teams from various parts of the United States.

Other members of the B.C. team—first representing this province at the fifth annual international horse show in Pebble Beach—were Cheryl Frost and Max Zimmerman, captain, both of Haney. Miss Donaldson rode March Mist, owned by Mr. Zimmerman.

HIGHLY RATED
The Pebble Beach competitions are highly rated and are used by the U.S. riding associations in choosing a national team to compete in the Pan-American Games next year.

The three-day competition included dressage Friday, cross-country endurance Saturday and jumping Sunday.

The B.C. team, besides scoring the highest overall marks in the intermediate class, also was the only one to make a clean run in the cross-country event.

The two Victoria girls, and Mrs. Joan Dunbar, who accompanied them, are expected back at the end of this week.

Sneak Thief Takes $205 From Sleeper

A Victoria man who cashed his pay cheque Friday, then went to bed early, woke up Saturday broke.

Derek Eleate, 436 Durban, told city police he had $205 in his wallet when he left it in a trouser pocket in his bedroom closet.

He said he went to bed at 6 p.m. and his wife and 14-year-old son retired at 1 a.m., apparently leaving a front door unlocked.

When Mrs. Eleate arose for work, she found her husband's wallet on a chest of drawers and the papers it had contained scattered around the bedroom floor.

Similar sneak thefts occurred in Fairfield district last month, when about $500 was stolen from wallets and purses, but in these cases the burglar was careful to replace them intact except for the money.

New Deanery Established In Saanich

A new rural deanery known as the rural deanery of Saanich has been created to meet the needs of a growing church in the southern part of Vancouver Island.

First meeting of the new rural-deanery chapter was held at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Obed Avenue, last week and was chaired by Ven. J. W. Farth, archdeacon of the diocese of British Columbia.

Rev. Canon J. Rogers, incumbent of St. Michael and All Angels, Royal Oak; the Good Shepherd Mission, Prospect Lake, and St. Columba's, Strawberry Vale, was nominated first rural dean of the new deanery and appointed by Archbishop Harold Sexton.

Secretary-treasurer of the new deanery is Rev. John D. Vickers, assisting at St. Martin-in-the-Fields and All Saints, View Royal.

First rural-deanery conference of Saanich will be held on Thursday, Oct. 4, in St. Michael and All Angels, Royal Oak.

The new deanery includes the congregations of:

Salt Spring Island, Holy Trinity, Sooke, Holy Trinity, North Saanich, Jordan River, St. Andrew's, Sidney, St. John's, Colwood, St. Stephen's, South Saanich, St. Matthew's, Langford, St. Mary's, Saanich, St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Brentwood College Memorial Chapel, All Saints, View Royal, St. Michael and All Angels, Royal Oak, St. David's-by-the-Sea, Good Shepherd Mission, Prospect Lake, St. Chad's, Mount Douglas, St. Columba's, Strawberry Vale, Mayne and Galiano Islands, St. Mary's, Metchoin, Pender Islands and Saturna.

REPAID FROM SALES
Ald. Toone stressed that even if a money bylaw is required to allow an early construction start, it would be repaid primarily from sale of city-owned lots rather than taxes.

Early guesses previously suggested the city might need to borrow up to $500,000 to carry out the project quickly. About this much is expected to be realized from land sales over the next few years.

Ald. Toone said he was anxious that the city should move quickly on the project "and this may mean we will have to borrow to make a start now but it could be repaid from the land sales according to a financial analysis."

Bank Rules Blamed For Hospitals' Woes

Health Minister Eric Martin today blamed bank restrictions and the federal government for hospital financing difficulties.

He was commenting on a threat from the Hospital Employees Union of a work stoppage if hospitals failed to meet payroll.

Vernon Jubilee Hospital last week told employees they would have to wait for pay until delayed B.C. Hospital Insurance Service payments are made. Other Okanagan hospitals complained that they were not getting big enough advances from the BCHIS.

William Black, secretary of the union, said in Vancouver he had written to Mr. Martin telling him if any B.C. hospital fails to meet a payroll there will be a work stoppage.

Mr. Martin said it was the responsibility of hospitals—not government—to meet payrolls. He said Vernon had received more money this year than ever.

MAKES ADVANCES
The government makes advances on BCHIS payments totalling $5,900,000 a month. Hospitals submit their claims and the balance is made up later. Later still the federal government reimburses B.C. for its share in hospital insurance.

Mr. Martin said current problems are partly due to banks refusing overdrafts, which formerly helped hospitals.

TUESDAY MEETINGS
Kiwanis Club of Victoria: Empress Hotel Ballroom, 12:10 p.m. Speaker John Manning will relate experiences and impressions on a stay in Formosa.

Financing Discussion Under Way

Decision on the best method of financing the civic precinct development will be sought as soon as possible, Ald. A. W. Toone said today.

He is chairman of the special committee set up by council to act as a ways and means committee for carrying out the permanent centennial project of rehabilitating City Hall, building an addition and creating Victoria Square.

"Actually, the project already is underway because we have purchased some of the needed properties, obtained options on others and are now actively negotiating for the remaining three," he said.

A meeting of the committee—which has Mayor R. B. Wilson and finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell as its other members—will be held in about a week to review negotiations.

BEST METHOD
"After that we will have to try to decide as soon as possible on the best method of financing the whole project because, if a money bylaw is needed, the vote will be held in December."

Ald. Toone said he hoped that a decision could be made in the next few weeks "but we will have to have a recommendation for council by November at the very latest" he said.

This would be necessary to give council ample time to thoroughly discuss any recommendation before deciding if a referendum will be called for the Dec. 13 election.

"I certainly want the people to have every opportunity of learning what is involved," he said.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Thirty cartons of cigarettes, valued at over $100, were stolen from a city grocery store Sunday night by a thief who was described by police as "very small."

Entry was made into Len's Grocery, 1021, Finlayson, by squeezing through the bars of a rear window, police said.

The cigarettes were in a store-room at the rear of the shop.

Oak Bay residents will no longer be subjected to "a Toronto sales pitch" by a zealous young magazine salesman.

The salesman's Vancouver manager promised to curb the youth's high pressure tactics after Oak Bay licence inspector John Muir warned that his licence to sell door-to-door in the municipality would be revoked if they continued.

Householders had complained to the inspector and police about the youth's sales pitch.

Food hampers will be available to some 300 families when the Free Food Stall is held next Saturday, says Mrs. E. E. Harper, convener.

Persons with surplus vegetables and fruit should contact Mrs. Harper at her home at 5695 Pat Bay Highway, telephone GR 4-1750.

Two members of the First Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will be among top Canadian Army marksmen who will compete with U.S. Army teams at Fort Benning, Ga., in October.

Sgt.-Maj. R. G. Buxton will compete on the pistol team and Lance-Cpl. J. W. Mathews will be on the rifle squad.

The pair were selected at the regular army small arms meet, held recently in Ottawa in which the PPCLI pistol team gained a first and the rifle rifle placed third.

Two local equestrians brought home nine ribbons at a horse show Saturday at the Mission City and District Agricultural and Horticultural Association Fall Fair.

Duncan Rimmer on Lady, and Barbara Johnstone riding King-Go-Boy gained two firsts, four seconds and three thirds in eight events.

Old Age Pensioners No. 1 picnic to the Gorge, scheduled for Tuesday, has been cancelled due to unsatisfactory weather prospects.

VANCOUVER ISLAND SALMON GROW "this big" says Alan Maclean, centre, of Campbell River. Helping in demonstration is Walter Dods-worth of Butchart Gardens while Calgary tourist manager Doug Johnson listens. Photo was taken during five-day goodwill tour to Alberta by 35-man party of civic and business representatives organized by B.C. Toll Authority ferry system. Group returned Sunday. Ronald Worley, of the toll authority, said today contests will be sponsored in Calgary, Edmonton and Medicine Hat, offering all-expense holidays here for three couples.

ASK THE TIMES

Q Is there any casino gambling game at which it is possible, by legal strategy, to beat the house? J.S.

A Most casino games are set up so that the player will—other things being equal—lose more than he will win; this is what he must pay for the privilege of playing. One gambling expert, however, says that it is possible to beat the house at blackjack, a card game, if the proper strategy is used, and he cites the case of two men who broke the bank at two Havana casinos to prove his point. It may be added that certain gamblers are barred from playing blackjack in many casinos.

Spots Before Your Eyes? Erase With Easy Cleaner

By PENNY SAVER

No need to have spotty specs. In a container the size of one of the lenses in your eyeglasses you can get a cleaner that gives you 24-hour protection against fogging and smearing.

You open the container as you would a clam shell and shut it round the lens. Then press gently and a small dot will appear on the glass. When this is polished on your smear protection is guaranteed for a whole day.

Cleaner, itself is guaranteed to last for 1,000 cleanings, or about a year. And it is only 49 cents!

With your outlook a bit brighter, you can get down to house-cleaning. And that can be brighter too with a handy sponge cloth that cleans, wipes and absorbs and is machine-washable.

Sanitized sponge and dishcloth in one, this wonder fabric is just an eighth of an inch thick. When rinsed in clear water it expands.

There are plain cloths in yellow or blue or there are imaginative cloths with stripes, stars or a fish design in red and green on yellow. Lots of variety, in color and use, for just 39 cents.

When you've recovered from this cleaning activity, you can sit down to insert summer photographs in your family album. If your pictures aren't the best, album I saw will provide enough interest to induce your picture-viewers to overlook your work. And if they are good pictures? Well, the album is a good setting for them too!

Front cover of each book is a hard glossy color reproduction of scenes that are almost typically Canadian. There are gorgeous, snow-capped mountains looming over glacier-fed lakes, trees covered with glowing-fall leaves and one with a Bounty-type ship in full sail.

Black pages on which to mount pictures are of heavy construction paper. Price is $2.95.

Call Penny at 382-3131 if you would like to know where I shopped for these items.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Things for College-Bound Young Folk to Remember

Sometimes I write about how the departure of young folks for college affects their parents. But today let us talk to the young men and women as they leave for college.

The first year is the most hazardous. For the first time you will be completely on your own.

Lowman own. You will be among strangers in an entirely new environment. You will have to learn to get along with all sorts of people. You will be subjected to all kinds of pressures.

In a way a college is a community like any small city or town. It prepares you for citizenship later on and the same qualities and attitudes and standards which will make you a fine citizen later on will make you a successful member of your college community now.

Either in college or out of it a good citizen must be dependable. He must have a sense of responsibility. He must take an interest in his community and the others who live in it. He must be ready to help his neighbor. While he is friendly with everyone he chooses his close associates with care.

He enters into the activities of the community and carries his weight in any worthwhile enterprise. He must learn how to spend his time. There are always so many demands and interests that the way time and energy are spent is most important. Remember too, that every good citizen works.

A good citizen lives by his own standards, not those of someone else. He does not violate his own integrity. It is also wise to consider the fact that the standards you learned at home which may have seemed old-fashioned at 16 or 17 are likely to seem very wise to you at 30.

SPADEA DESIGNER PATTERN

"Softly-feminine-to-the-body" is the important fashion message from Paris for Fall '62, and a perfect summation of that news is this charming Capucci coat. Purely cut and beautifully detailed, its shape rests lightly on the figure, placing gentle emphasis on the waistline, then gradually widening into a moderate flare. Slit pockets are delicately piped-in low on the shoulder and high on the hip. Smooth set-in sleeves and a flattering wing-back collar complete the newest, most gracefully stated cover story of the season. Suggested fabrics are flat surfaced or textured woollens, tweeds, worsted faille, bengaline or silk and wool blends. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

DEAR ABBY

All Work and No Play!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a guy who thinks more of his job than he does of me. He is an insurance agent who loves his work and is trying to get ahead. After work he comes straight to my house. When he walks in the door he doesn't say, "I love you." He says, "Don't bother me. I have work to do." We never go out any more because he's either too tired or wants to study. He practically ignores me and we aren't even married yet. Should I stick with him?

IGNORED.

DEAR IGNORED: Your boy friend's ambition is impressive, but he's courting a career—not a girl. If you want a go-getter in business and a go-to-sleeper at home, he's your agent.

DEAR ABBY: I am allergic to lawyers. I have practically supported lawyers all my life and I am sick of them. Now I want to get a divorce, but I don't want a lawyer getting into the act. I know I either have to pay alimony to my wife or make a flat settlement on her. I am willing to make a deal with her but I don't want any lawyers cutting themselves a big slice for nothing. Is it possible to get a divorce without a lawyer?

SICK OF LAWYERS.
DEAR SICK: Only a lawyer is qualified to advise you in legal matters. Better ask a lawyer if you need to hire one.

DEAR ABBY: A very pretty young woman recently moved to town and I started dating her. I made up my mind that I was going to be a perfect gentleman. I didn't try to kiss her goodnight and I didn't take her parking or anything like that. She soon dropped me. Later I found out that she didn't want to have anything to do with me because she thought something must be "wrong" with me.

MISSED MY CHANCE.

Judith Moule Married

Pink and white gladioli decorated Oak Bay United Church when Judith Louise Moule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Moule, became the bride of Terrance Marson, son of Mrs. J. E. Marson, 4537 Viewmont Avenue, and the late Mr. Marson. Rev. Alex Calder officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk sheer over taffeta that had appliques of lace and sequins highlighting the fitted bodice. Bouffant skirt swept back to a chapel train.

A shoulder-length veil of illusion net misted from a pearl and sequin headpiece. Pink roses and white stephanotis were in her bouquet. Only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Identical full-skirted gowns of blue silk taffeta were chosen by maid of honor, Miss Wendy Moore, and bridesmaids, the Misses Jane Rochfort and Nadine Watson. Tiny veils trimmed their matching hats. Accessories were en tone. They carried bouquets of pink gladioli.

Jack Marson was best man for his brother, and ushers were Nels Granewall and Wayne Stevenson. The bride's aunt, Mrs. George Waddell sang "O Perfect Love" during the ceremony and "The Day of Golden Promise" during signing of the register.

Mr. Waddell proposed the toast to his niece at a reception which followed in the Carlton Club. Pink roses and white candles flanked the three-tier wedding cake that centred the head table.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride donned a white wool suit, yellow flowered hat and yellow gloves, bone-shaded bag and shoes. Corsage was a single yellow orchid.

After a honeymoon trip to the Seattle World's Fair, the young couple will make their home at 602 Trutch Street.

Bride's Little Namesake Flower Girl at Wedding

Namesake of the bride, little Miss Marlee Mestdagh, was a charming flower girl in a white frock and carrying a basket of white chrysanthemums at the wedding of Marlee Deanne Hoffman and William Frederick Sutton Chalmers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon organza over taffeta. A band of lace extended from the bodice down each side of the hooped skirt and met in the back. Fitted bodice was accented with sequins and pearls on lace around the scalloped neckline.

A tiara of sequins and pearls held a circular veil edged in white rose appliques. Deep pink roses and sprigs of heather were in her bouquet.

COUSIN THE SOLOIST

Cousin of the bride, Linda Broome, sang "O Perfect Love" during signing of the register, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. F. Broome.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated Oak Bay United Church for the ceremony at which Rev. A. Calder officiated.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hoffman, 2025 Allenby Street, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Chalmers, 619 Broadway.

Sister of the bride, Miss Janis Hoffman, was maid of honor.

Mestdagh, Maple Creek, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Barrow, Fairfield, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. R. Chalmers, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. Fleming, Lantzville, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Kirkham, Salt Spring Island.

Mrs. Charles S. A. (Sylvia) Ritchie, wife of the Canadian Ambassador to the United States, has been in Seattle this week with her husband to participate in opening of Canada's Week at the Seattle World's Fair. This evening they will attend a reception and buffet supper given by the English Speaking Union and the World Affairs Council, both of Seattle, and later will attend first performance of the Canadian Tattoo which is to be presented nightly during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie will leave Seattle on Tuesday morning.

Women Work for Peace

OTTAWA (UPI)—Women from more than 15 countries gather in Quebec's Laurentian Mountains and in Montreal this week to discuss ways of promoting international co-operation and world disarmament.

The week-long "conference of women for international year" will bring together five women from the Soviet Union, almost 50 from the United States, representatives of Canada's Voice of Women and women from several other countries.

They will discuss a resolution to go before the United Nations General Assembly this fall to make 1963 international co-operation year.

If the resolution is adopted, the women want to be ready with international projects that they hope will build understanding and bridge differences among nations. The ultimate aim of the U.S., Canadian and many other of the women is world disarmament.

Five days of closed meetings will be held in the Laurentians so the women of different language and cultures can get to know one another.

Then on Friday they will move into the University of Montreal for a two-day open conference at which the keynote speaker will be famed anthropologist Dr. Margaret Meade.

For Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Bray and children, John and Holly, of Vancouver, were visiting Mrs. Bray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bray, 620 Foul Bay Road, for the weekend.

Christening

Christine Ann were the names given to the 19-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Copeland in recent christening ceremony at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Rev. Bruce J. Molloy officiated. Godparents for the child are Mrs. Nellie Goodlett, Vancouver, who was unable to attend the ceremony, and Mr. Bill Liggett. Guests at an informal tea held in the Copeland home on The Rise following the ceremony included the baby's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rosemary Petersen, Vancouver, her aunt Miss Sandra Ferguson, Mr. Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Broderson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Joannis.

Shower

Corsage of bronze carnations was presented to bride-elect Miss Sharon Weeks at shower held recently in her honor by Mrs. M. Mickelson and Mrs. J. R. Porter in the latter's home on the Island Highway. Mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. W. E. Weeks, received a white gardenia corsage. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. John Wishlow, Mrs. F. Skeates and Miss Beverley Wishlow. Other guests were Mrs. K. CONFERENCE DISCOVERS

Family Comes First With Most Women, But Need Is Present for Outside Interest as Well

By ANNE FRANCIS

(Special to the Times)

TORONTO—Canadian men will, I am sure, be glad to hear that there is nothing, absolutely nothing so important to a woman as her family. All the female speakers at CBC's three-day conference on the Real World of Women, held here have said this very loud and clear, and more than once, before putting in BUT. And always that BUT is there.

"But," they say, "women need to express their whole personalities and they can't do that unless they have interests outside of the home."

The consensus of opinion was that volunteer work with the Red Cross, the church W.A. or some other service club is often just as valuable as a paid job since so many women work just to get away from household routine and the chatter of little tongues.

The conference kept coming round and round, even if by different routes, to the as yet unalterable fact that women are the people who bear children and are traditionally responsible for feeding, training and comforting them during their early years.

In other words, the delegates here faced the fact that women just can't escape their biological responsibility. As Simone de Beauvoir has put it they are "the prey of the species."

During the discussions it was recognized that there is such an infinite variety of women that generalization can give a false impression.

No one can, for example, deny that many women get complete satisfaction out of being just a wife and just raising a family.

But they are not the people who concerned this conference. As one delegate said to me, rather guiltily, she felt out of place because she is not in the least dissatisfied or confused about her role as a mother. When I asked her how many children she has, she replied

Seven of my own and two others adopted. The oldest is 15."

I looked at her smooth, unlined face and thought that she is probably fortunate among women although her lot may not be such a happy one when her children are all grown up.

The atmosphere at this conference was clinical rather than emotional. However, I detected a gentle squirming in the audience indicating an unwillingness

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO-TO-HONOLULU—So here we go—the B.W. and I—on a round-the-world trip. We think the world's a wonderful place, and a very funny place. In fact, we wouldn't live anywhere else.

Our first stop's Hawaii, that land so beautiful, as somebody said, "that you can't remember what you came to forget."

Then Tahiti, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Calcutta, Karachi, Teheran, Beirut, Rome, Paris and Idelwild—we'll go around the horn in a month. One of my editors said, "Don't forget to write."

Sitting with my typewriter on my knees on this Pan-American jet 31,000 feet up, I'm starting now. I want to pass on some Earl's Pearls from the Pacific.

Overhead on the jet: Mother (thrilling to a woman next to her): "Our son, who's in college, is a mathematics major." Daddy (loudly): "Major, he's a mathematics private!"

A memo I made to me back in N.Y.: I phoned Bernard Baruch at his 5th Ave. home to notify him that "Pappy" Van Winkle, the Louisville bourbon distiller, had commissioned me to deliver him a 17-year-old bottle of the stuff.

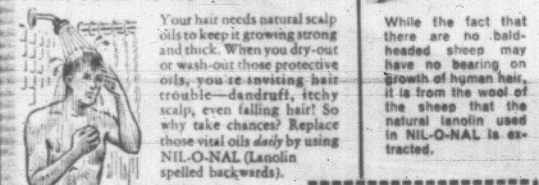

Baruch, heading for his Port Washington home, said: "Listen, you hold it for me—but don't drink it for me."

Bob Williams' one-dog act steals the show at Gracie Hansen's Paradise club at the Seattle World's Fair. But comedian-ventriloquist Dick Weston and those dummies were excellent. Dialogue between dummy and Weston:

Dick: "You like girls, I gather." Dummy: "I like girls any-body gathers."

Wouldn't you think airports would transport us from the planes to the baggage claiming area now that the distance seems to be miles and miles? As Bill Dana said, "Shouldn't the airports treat us as good as they treat our luggage?"

Did you ever see a Baldheaded Sheep?

YOUR SCALP IS NOT AN OILWELL!

Your hair needs natural scalp oils to keep it growing strong and thick. When you dry-out or wash-out those protective oils, you're inviting hair trouble—dandruff, itchy scalp, even falling hair! So why take chances? Replace those vital oils daily by using NIL-O-NAL (lanolin spelled backwards).

While the fact that there are no bald-headed sheep may have no bearing on growth of human hair, it is from the wool of the sheep that the natural lanolin used in NIL-O-NAL is extracted.

✓ Receding hair line?
✓ Spreading bald spots?
✓ Thin, falling hair?
✓ Flaky dandruff?
✓ Itchy scalp?

If that's what dryness is doing to your hair, then start using NIL-O-NAL now before it's too late! NIL-O-NAL contains special refined lanolin to replace the natural oils you've driven out. It's so effective it counteracts every dry-hair problem!

IMPORTANT: Don't confuse NIL-O-NAL with any ordinary lanolin product. NIL-O-NAL is extra refined—no sticky! Won't pick-up dirt from air. It's clear, greaseless, organic, non-alcoholic. Delightful to use.

SEE RESULTS IN 30 DAYS

IF you want the hair benefits we know NIL-O-NAL can give you, get a jar today. It's the most successful lanolin formula in Canada! and we guarantee you'll be completely astonished in 30 days... or your money back! Special price now apply. Only $1.49 for a 2 oz. jar, only $2.49 for the money-saving 4 oz. jar. Get NIL-O-NAL today at any drug or cosmetic counter. Remember, this guarantee applies only if you insist on NIL-O-NAL. That's lanolin spelled backwards!

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by club readers and those who submit the questions by mail to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Robert Burget, age 11, of Williamsport, Penn., for his question:

How Many Different Stars Are There?

There are more than two billion earth people, every one different from all the rest. But if intelligent insects arrived from Mars, we earthlings would see that our like nesses outnumber our differences. So it is with the stars. All have features in common, but each star has a few differences.

In our Galaxy, we are told, there are about 100 billion stars. When we see the Milky Way, we get an edgewise view of the pinwheel which is our home in the heavens. There are many millions like it scattered throughout the vast ocean of space and the total number of stars is uncountable. Each star almost certainly has some little feature to make it unique, but the list of likeness shared by all the stars is also uncountable.

Every star is a controlled nuclear furnace of burning gases. Its energy is released because changes take place in the nuclei of its atoms. All stars are hot and radioactive. All star material is gaseous and many atoms are stripped of their electrons and become ions. Most star material is hydrogen and the remaining elements are some of those from which earth is made.

Stars have a long list of features in common, but they have differences. There are baby stars, teen-agers, adults and old timers. There are giants and dwarfs and some are 10 times hotter than others. Stars are giants and dwarfs and some are 10 times hotter than others. Stars come in different colors and contain different assortments of elements. The differences and likenesses have been used to classify the star population.

Astronomers have sorted the stars into seven main classes, with a number of subclasses and a few odd balls. Class M includes the red giants. They are cool stars of about 5,500 degrees and big enough to swallow a sizeable chunk of our Solar System. K class stars are red-orange and about 7,000 degrees. They are somewhat smaller than the giants and some of their gases are metallic elements.

The stars in class G are golden yellow, of medium size and around 11,000 degrees—which is medium temperature for a star. In this medium, middle-of-the-road group of stars we find our own glorious sun. Class F stars are yellow-white, about 13,500 degrees hot and there are metallic elements among their gases. Class A stars are dazzling white, teeming with hydrogen and about 20,000 degrees hot. The blue-white stars in class B are about 36,000 degrees and the bluish stars in class O seethe at temperatures above 55,000 degrees.

Star classification is a very rough-and-ready method for sorting the starry population into recognizable groups. Every star in a class is not exactly like all its classmates.

The differences and likenesses have been used to classify the star population.

Astronomers have sorted the stars into seven main classes, with a number of subclasses and a few odd balls. Class M includes the red giants. They are cool stars of about 5,500 degrees and big enough to swallow a sizeable chunk of our Solar System. K class stars are red-orange and about 7,000 degrees. They are somewhat smaller than the giants and some of their gases are metallic elements.

The stars in class G are golden yellow, of medium size and around 11,000 degrees—which is medium temperature for a star. In this medium, middle-of-the-road group of stars we find our own glorious sun. Class F stars are yellow-white, about 13,500 degrees hot and there are metallic elements among their gases. Class A stars are dazzling white, teeming with hydrogen and about 20,000 degrees hot. The blue-white stars in class B are about 36,000 degrees and the bluish stars in class O seethe at temperatures above 55,000 degrees.

Star classification is a very rough-and-ready method for sorting the starry population into recognizable groups. Every star in a class is not exactly like all its classmates.

Bolshoi Dancers Do Twist

NEW YORK (CP) — The famed Bolshoi Ballet did the twist en masse here Sunday at a private penthouse party to the appropriate tune of Moscow Nights.

The dancers, headed by their prima ballerina, Maya Plisetskaya, arrived by bus to be greeted by a five-piece jazz ensemble.

Also on hand were Gene Kelly of dancing fame and actors Henry Fonda and Robert Preston.

When stand leader Ted Strater struck up Moscow Nights the dancers did the twist. They also watched a demonstration of the dance by the Bolshoi's only American member, Anastasia Stevens. She finished her stint to critical acclaim and said "Give them time, they'll master it."

Mailman Sues

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Mailman Donald Bogan has filed a $40,000 suit against Robert Gonzaga, owner of a dog. Bogan said that in the course of his appointed rounds he was attacked by Gonzaga's dog. He said that when he tried to stop the dog from biting him Gonzaga came up, attacked him and broke his jaw.

Fair Spotlight Turns on Canada

SEATTLE (CP) — Canada week at the Seattle World's Fair, with many smash-assured elements, opened Sunday to the sound of fanfaring trumpets.

It continues until Saturday and should give the big fair a home-stretch attendance shot in the arm.

Sunday night, while 700 persons filled the fair's playhouse for Gratiem Gellinas' Bousille and the Just, 7,500 sat in the rain to watch a Canadian military tattoo go through its final paces.

The Montreal playwright and actor received warm applause for Bousille, performed in English.

Those at the tattoo rehearsal in the fair's Coliseum said they would be back tonight for the opening of the big tattoo. Everything Canada shows this week is free—except for Bousille.

Taking part in the tattoo are 650 military and RCMP personnel—the RCMP strutting its famed musical ride.

Canadian Ambassador Charles Ritchie opened Canada week Sunday and was given a gold pass to the fair as the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals blew a trumpet fanfare. The golden-helmeted band of the Lord Strathcona Horse followed with brass music.

Today, the National Film Board will show some of its best documentaries and the RCAF's Golden Hawks will spill through their most exciting sequences.

The RCN has brought four destroyer escorts into the Seattle harbor.

Local Sea Cadets Chosen to Enter Service Colleges

Petty Officer Randy Patch, RCSC, has been accepted for enrolment in the College Militaire Royal de Saint Jean, Quebec, it was announced at the first parade of the Rainbow Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps held at headquarters on Robert Street, Friday evening.

Another cadet, PO Robert Price, has qualified for HMCS Venture and PO Peter Reid was accepted under the Regular Officers' Training Plan. He will study at Victoria College this year.

Former executive officer, Lieut. John Gibson, has been transferred to Smithers, B.C., and Sub-Lt. W. Needham will be moving to Vancouver. Their resignations have left the corps without instructors in boatwork, communications and range work.

Volunteers who are able to teach these subjects are asked to telephone the commanding officer, Lieut. W. W. Ross at GR 7-6788 or Mrs. George DuFour at EV 4-3706.

Boys between the ages of 14 and 18 who are interested in becoming sea cadets should report at Rainbow next Tuesday and Friday evening. Vacancies are limited.

Colwood 'Playland' Could Serve 5 Areas

A plan for five small communities to combine resources for a big "playland" at Colwood exhibition grounds was proposed Saturday by Esquimalt MLA Herbert Bruch.

It would be launched as a Canada centennial project for View Royal, Colwood, Langford, Luxton and Metchosin.

It would be "a natural" answer to the problem of developing the 130-acre property, owned by the national defence department.

Mr. Bruch made his proposal after opening the Sooke Fair Saturday and suggested the five communities tackle the project in three stages.

First would be to build an arena.

Money would be raised as a centennial project. B.C. and federal governments have agreed to each make $1 per capita grants to communities

NOT REALLY FIT FOR DUCKS

It was rain, rain, rain over most of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland today—and this solitary duck in Beacon Hill Park seemed glad of an umbrella. Starting Sunday afternoon, .29 of an inch fell on Greater Victoria overnight and this morning following a fairly dry spell since Aug. 20. But July and August had more rain than usual. Mainly cloudy weather with showers is expected Tuesday with some clearing towards evening. (Times photo by Halkett.)

Mac Attempts to Calm Fears Over ECM Entry

GUAM BASE FOR A-SUBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today it will base Polaris missile submarines at Guam, strategically located in the mid-Pacific about 1,800 miles from Communist China.

The announcement gave no date for moving the nuclear-powered subs into the Pacific, but the navy timetable is reported to call for posting the first of them off Red China by late next year.

Formosa Admits Flight

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist China, reporting it shot down one of two U-2 planes from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U-2's they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a "routine" reconnaissance mission over the China mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U-2's were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation in December of that year.

A U.S. state department spokesman said the U-2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes was solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it "could be assumed" that information obtained from Nationalist U-2 flights would be turned over to the United States in the normal course of intelligence exchange between two allies.

The latest U-2 incident, announced over Peking radio, came five days after the Soviet Union protested that an American-piloted U-2 had violated Soviet air space over Russian-held Sakhalin Island, north of Japan. The United States admitted that one of its patrol planes might have been blown off course by high winds.

Peking did not disclose the fate of the Nationalist pilot, but Nationalist officials said privately they were convinced he could not have been captured alive.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U-2 intact to the mainland.

FOLLOWS USSR PROTEST

The disorders included: An attempt to blow up a highway bridge near Umfali, 170 miles from Salisbury; the burning of an African school at Sinoia, up miles from Salisbury; the erection of roadblocks in some areas and the burning of the European club house at Zaka, near Fort Victoria.

Historic Meeting Underway

(Times News Services)

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today opened the 1962 16-nation Commonwealth prime ministers' conference with a speech attempting to calm fears about Britain's possible entrance into the European Common Market, it was reported.

Reports said Macmillan delivered the speech in the closed afternoon session of what British newspapers called the most vital such meeting in Commonwealth history.

Details of conference proceedings were—as usual—not made public. But reports said Macmillan followed up his brief morning welcoming address with a speech designed to allay the deep-rooted suspicions that British Commonwealth membership might loosen drastically the economic and political ties binding the Commonwealth.

'FULL EXPLANATION'

The first of what is expected to be a series of conference communiqués issued tonight said only that Macmillan gave a "full explanation of the political and economic aspects" of Britain's plan to join the continental trade bloc.

The leaders of 750,000,000 people decided after Macmillan's statement to set aside the next two days for general debate on the market issue.

But the talks can reach no final conclusion since the decision on the final terms rests ultimately with the six nations of the Common Market.

Macmillan was expected to yield to pressure from most of the prime ministers for a further meeting, probably early next year, after the British negotiations with the Common Market countries are completed.

Pressure in Britain is increasing against Britain's entry. As the prime ministers gathered at Marlborough House this morning they passed a picket line carrying placards reading: "Common Market means end of the Commonwealth" and "Common Market—No."

Macmillan, as host to the gathering, made an opening speech of welcome this morning. Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada and Dr. Eric Williams of Trinidad, as leaders of the oldest and youngest Commonwealth nations, replied.

DIEFENBAKER REPLIES

Mr. Diefenbaker said it is "important to look to the future at this time, when a problem of momentous significance is before us for consideration."

He expressed confidence that all members would pledge themselves to ensure that the underlying principle of their talks would be "the further strengthening of the Commonwealth association."

FARMER PROTESTS IN VAIN

Wife Holds the Title — Freedomites Stay

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)—While an irate farmer locked on helplessly, some 750 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors placidly settled down in his fields Sunday.

BITTER PILL

Own Stone Galled Patient

PATERSON N.J. (AP) — After Joseph Freeman underwent successful surgery for gall bladder trouble a solicitous nurse brought him the gallstone that was removed Saturday so he could see what it looked like.

Freeman vice-president of the Passaic County Mosquito Commission was speaking at his bedside telephone when the nurse left the stone in a cup.

Freeman finished his conversation, looked in to the cup and, thinking it contained a pill, promptly swallowed his gall stone.

Doctors at St. Joseph's Hospital assured Freeman the stone would not trouble him again, and the patient was sent home to continue his recuperation.

Hunger Strike

NANAIMO (CP)—Six young Doukhobors have gone on a hunger strike at the Brannen Lake School for juvenile male offenders.

School officials said the strike began Sept. 3, apparently in sympathy with the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are on a trek from the Kootenays to Agassiz.

Officials said that since Labor Day the youths, all aged 16 and 17 years, have only been drinking water.

Reporters Missing

HAVANA (AP)—Three reporters representing Western press organizations failed to return home today and there were fears they may have been picked up by Cuban security officials.

VIOLENCE ROCKS RHODESIA

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — White-ruled Southern Rhodesia experienced widespread arson, sabotage and political intimidation during the weekend, police said today.

Police said they are investigating the source of leaflets claiming the existence of a Mau Mau-like African "liberation army" which advocates violence to put Southern Rhodesia immediately under black rule.

The disorders included: An attempt to blow up a highway bridge near Umfali, 170 miles from Salisbury; the burning of an African school at Sinoia, up miles from Salisbury; the erection of roadblocks in some areas and the burning of the European club house at Zaka, near Fort Victoria.

BLAMES MARCHERS

Orthodox leader John Verigin blamed the burning of the bridge 13 miles east of this border community, 250 miles from Vancouver, on Freedomites and charged that the marchers were robbing Orthodox farmers' fields.

He expressed disappointment that there had been no reply from Attorney-General Bonner to a wire he sent Friday calling for protection of his people.

Officials at Agassiz, 80 miles east of Vancouver, wondered what they could do about the Freedomites if and when they arrived there.

Kennedy Meets Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy and his Republican predecessor, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, conferred today at a White House lunch on possible new danger signs in the Berlin situation.

Seek UN Membership

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The Security Council was summoned today to meet Wednesday to consider applications for UN membership for the newly-independent Caribbean countries of Trinidad, Tobago and Jamaica.

Farmers Protest ECM

RODENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP) — More than 3,500 farmers today demonstrated in this West German town against government economic and price policies under the European Common Market.

Bomb Blasts Auto

MONTREAL (CP)—Armand Larose, who was questioned about an underworld slaying 14 months ago, was badly injured early today when a home-made bomb blew up his car.

KASHMIR DISPUTE

Nehru Target Of Angry Mob

LONDON (Reuters) — Demonstrators demanding the independence of Kashmir broke through a police cordon today and headed toward a car carrying Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

But police after a few minutes struggle managed to force back the angry Kashmiris to the sidewalk.

onstrators representing an anti-market movement in Britain carried placards reading "Britain—yes, Common Market—no."

The demonstrating Kashmiris—about 300 of them—shouted slogans that built up to a crescendo as each car carrying a Commonwealth statesman swept past.

Kashmir has been claimed by both India and Pakistan since the sub-continent was divided in 1947.

'Jet Car' Driver Dies In Test Run Explosion

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Driver Glenn Leasure of San Mateo, Calif., was killed today when his jet car, Infinity, apparently exploded on a test run through the measured mile on these western Utah salt flats.

The accident occurred on a second run through the measured mile after Leasure had made one pass at 287 miles an hour.

Witnesses said the auto appeared to explode near the place where driver Athol Graham of Salt Lake City was killed and Donald Campbell of England injured in 1960.

The auto the 25-year-old Leasure was driving belonged to Romeo Palamides and Harry Burd of Oakland, Calif.

Uganda Welcomed By Commonwealth

NDON (Reuters) — Leaders of the 15 Commonwealth countries meeting here today, formally approved Uganda's application to become an independent member of the Commonwealth after Oct. 9.

At their first session this morning the leaders also agreed that Tanganyika should remain within the Commonwealth after it becomes a republic in December conference sources said.

UN Members Split in Poll On Atom Arms

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—United Nations members, in a poll taken by Acting Secretary-General U Thant, split about evenly on the issue of calling an international conference to sign a treaty outlawing nuclear weapons.

This was disclosed today in a report to the forthcoming General Assembly by Thant.

The United States and Britain were among 26 nations who were against or had doubts about holding the conference. The Soviet Union and other Communist nations were among 29 nations expressing a favorable view.

An Asian-African resolution, approved by a vote of 55-to-20 with 26 abstentions at the last assembly, directed Thant to make the poll.

Child Strangled

MONTREAL (CP) — The body of five-year-old Linda Martin was found strangled to death today at her Naperville home, 25 miles south of Montreal, and—provincial—police sought a 22-year-old maid for questioning.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

SEPT. 10

A large hay press, the first on the Island, arrived for Mr. Lennox, and it is apparent that the farmers have not forgotten last winter's severe weather. A good portion of most farms is devoted to the growing of wheat, which is now being harvested and stacked.

William Cocker has been chosen unanimously to represent Esquimalt in the House of Assembly, succeeding Mayor Harris. The election was held yesterday in front of Williams' Hotel, Wharf Street, and the 50 persons attending them adjourned to the bar to drink Mr. Cocker's health.

The Royal Navy flag ship Bacchante will sail Sept. 15 on her winter cruise in southern waters, which will last several months.

Opinions On Future Divided

By JACK LEEFER

NEW YORK (AP)—Economic barometers last week indicated fair weather but the possibility of storms beyond the horizon persisted.

The preponderance of new business statistics was favorable. However, the improvement was by no means impressive. Opinion about the state of business remained sharply divided.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York said that information currently available "seems to confirm that the economy has weathered an unusual combination of adverse influences better than many people expected."

On the other hand, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said, "we are not growing fast enough economically to keep pace with our growing population and sooner or later we will be in serious trouble."

The employment-unemployment picture could be viewed two ways. The number of employed rose to a record 69,762,000 in August despite seasonal expectations of a decline. Unemployment, which usually shows a substantial drop at this time of the year, fell off only slightly. As a result, the idle work force from 5.3 per cent in July.

NO SIGN OF RECESSION

Seymour Wolfstein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said he didn't see anything in the job figures pointing to a recession.

Automobile and steel production have perked up.

The automakers, nearing full stride in output of 1963 models, turned out an estimated 66,000 passenger cars against 53,378 last week. They are expected to operate at full blast this month, assembling 456,000 cars, compared with 355,518 in August. If sales hold up, production is expected to soar even higher in October.

Steel output renewed its advance last week with mills melting 1,672,000 tons, up 3.8 per cent over the previous week. For this year through Sept. 1, production totaled 17,978,000 tons, a gain of 9.4 per cent over the comparable period of last year.

Businessmen were particularly cheered by the condition of the paperboard industry, which they consider a sensitive indicator of future business. Paperboard is the material from which most boxes for packing merchandise are made.

The National Paperboard Association reported orders to mills in the four weeks ended Aug. 25 increased 6.4 per cent over the comparable 1961 period.

BUSINESS VIEWS

New Takeover Bids in Air

By GORDON BELL

Times Business Editor

There's a strong rumor, backed up by considerable stock market activity, that Pan American Petroleum Ltd., wholly owned subsidiary of Standard Oil of Indiana, is making a bid to take over Canada Southern Petroleum Ltd.

Canada Southern holds rights to some of the potentially richest natural gas lands in northern British Columbia and the Northwest Territories. Through a subsidiary it also has interests in Wyoming and Colorado oil lands.

The move would be a natural for Pan Am which has taken a lead in far north gas development and is reputed to have brought in some wells which will rank among the greatest producers in the world.

Continuing takeover activities in the Canadian oil industry, Denison Mines Ltd. is seeking control of Westburne Oil Co. Ltd. with an offer of 80 cents a share for at least 50 per cent of the outstanding Westburne shares.

The move by Denison is part of its program to diversify which has already seen the producer move into other mining activity, into the cement business via Lake Ontario Portland Cement and other interests. Denison already is involved in oil with land holdings in the Judy Creek and Swan Hills areas of Alberta.

Westburne's oil activities are confined to Alberta and Saskatchewan.

British American Oil Co. Ltd. has announced that it has succeeded in getting better than 50 per cent of the stock of Superior Propane Ltd., thus ending efforts of Superior directors to get a better price for another bidder.

B.A. bid $18.22 1/2 a share for Superior while Superior directors felt the offer should not have been less than $20. However, the propane firm told shareholders earlier this week that they had been unable to get a higher bid.

Although Canadian Oil Companies Ltd. successfully fought initial efforts at acquisition by Shell Oil Co. of Canada Ltd. for $39 a share, there is little certainty that the only major wholly-integrated oil firm controlled by Canadians will be able to continue as such.

It is reported in the east that Power Corp. of Canada, which holds a controlling interest in Canadian Oil, is dickering with "three or four" U.S. firms which are interested in getting control.

Magna Pipelines Ltd., which seems to be all out of the running so far as bringing natural gas to Vancouver Island is concerned, is also having difficulties with its proposed Olympic Peninsula line.

Magna originally was going to take over Natural Gas Transmission Company of Seattle, which held the franchise for the Bremerton, Port Townsend and Port Angeles areas. The B.C. Public Utilities Commission approved the deal but, so far, the Washington state utilities and transportation commission has balked.

Washington, like many other states, has a strong tradition against foreign corporations controlling public utilities and other essential industries.

Meanwhile, it seems that because there has been difficulty in lining up industrial customers in the Port Angeles area, Magna will drop Port Angeles and Port Townsend and is discussing possible service to three other towns—including the new U.S. naval base at Bangor on the Kitsap Peninsula—in conjunction with Cascade Natural Gas Co. which originally was going to distribute gas in Bremerton.

This deal, in turn, is contingent on an application of El Paso Natural Gas Co. from which Magna-Cascade would buy its supplies, to the Federal Power Commission to build an extension to its line to the Olympic Peninsula. The FPC has not yet heard this application.

A move into Western Canada is being made by Steep Rock Mines Ltd. which has announced that it has entered into an agreement with Butte Lake Mines Ltd. for a joint prospecting and exploration venture.

Expenditures will be shared 75 per cent to Steep Rock and 25 per cent to Butte Lake, with ownership of property on the same basis.

The agreement has no effect on the present agreement between Butte Lake Mines and Newmont Mining Corp. of Canada on development of the Vancouver Island copper prospect.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Prices Continue Downward Trend

Nothing happened over the weekend to sharpen the dull edge of trading and prices continued to decline. Industrials took the steepest loss with banks the weakest group in the section. Speculators were active, Nealon Mines climbing 14 points, while losses and gains balanced each other in both base metals and oils.

Oils, on Wall Street started off with a spurt but fell back into a mixed pattern as the day progressed. Drugs and autos had been freely recommended by various brokerage houses with little effect on prices.

AT TORONTO Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Royal Bank both fell 1/4. Nova Scotia dropped 1/4. Montreal fell 1/4 and Toronto-Dominion declined 1/4.

Interprovincial Pipe Line, Walker-Gooderham, Dominion Foundries and Steel and Consolidated Paper all declined nationally while among the gainers were Power Corporation, up 1/4. Consumers' Gas, ahead 1/4 and BA Oil, up 1/4.

Among the base metals, International Nickel fell a point and Falconbridge 1/2, while Denison and Noranda both rose 1/4. Speculative features heavy trading in Nealon Mines, which climbed 14 cents to 42 cents. Other active speculators were Paramoque, Newnorth and Bibis Yukon. In western oils, Calgary and Edmonton fell 1/4, while Pacific Petroleum rose 1/4.

AT MONTREAL prices remained lower in active trading early this afternoon.

Consolidated Paper fell 1/4 to 38 1/2, among papers and International Nickel lost 1 1/2 to 64 1/2 among base metals.

Mines were active. Keeley-Frontier rose seven cents to 54 cents and Mount Pleasant fell a cent to $2.24.

AT NEW YORK IBM moved more widely than other stocks, opening lower, then moving up a fraction before falling back almost 5 points.

Amerasia showed a small gain among the oils while Texaco was off a fraction.

Among Canadian stocks on the New York exchange, Walker-Gooderham lost 1/4, International Nickel 1/4 and Dome Mines and Distillers Seagrams 1/4. Aluminum Ltd. rose 1/4.

AT LONDON trading was quiet today but the general undertone was satisfactory.

An exception was provided by gilt-edged securities among which the undated stock showed losses extending to 3/4, while the date issues were slightly lower where changed.

Canadian bank shares were firm while home banking and insurance shares were often better.

Dollar stocks were narrowly irregular while small gains predominated in a quiet industrial market.

Gold and copper shares were firm but business remained at a low level. Leading oil shares were a shade better.

AT VANCOUVER today the trading was light. The Peso rose to $1.26 while Presidential Pete fell to .18. Giant Mascot rose to .73 and Granduc fell to .32. Kootenay dropped to .45 and McKenney rose to .53. Mt. Washington rose to $1.12 while Western Mines dropped to $2.25 and Canadian Breweries sold at $9.58.

Mr. Beaubien also said in a letter one of the directors will accept the purchase offer.

Laurentide Hikes Rate of Dividend

VANCOUVER (CP)—Laurentide Financial Corporation Ltd. has announced a dividend rate of 70 cents a share, an increase of 10 cents.

President Peter Paul Saunders said following the company's general meeting nearly $4,000,000 in new capital will be raised by a rights issue of new stock to holders of Laurentide common class A and B shares.

Oil Deliveries Show Big Increase

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company has reported a big upsurge in August deliveries of crude oil through its system—177,930 barrels per day compared with 133,713 barrels per day during the same period of 1961.

The company said deliveries for the month of September this year are expected to average 207,000 barrels daily.

Let's talk REAL ESTATE

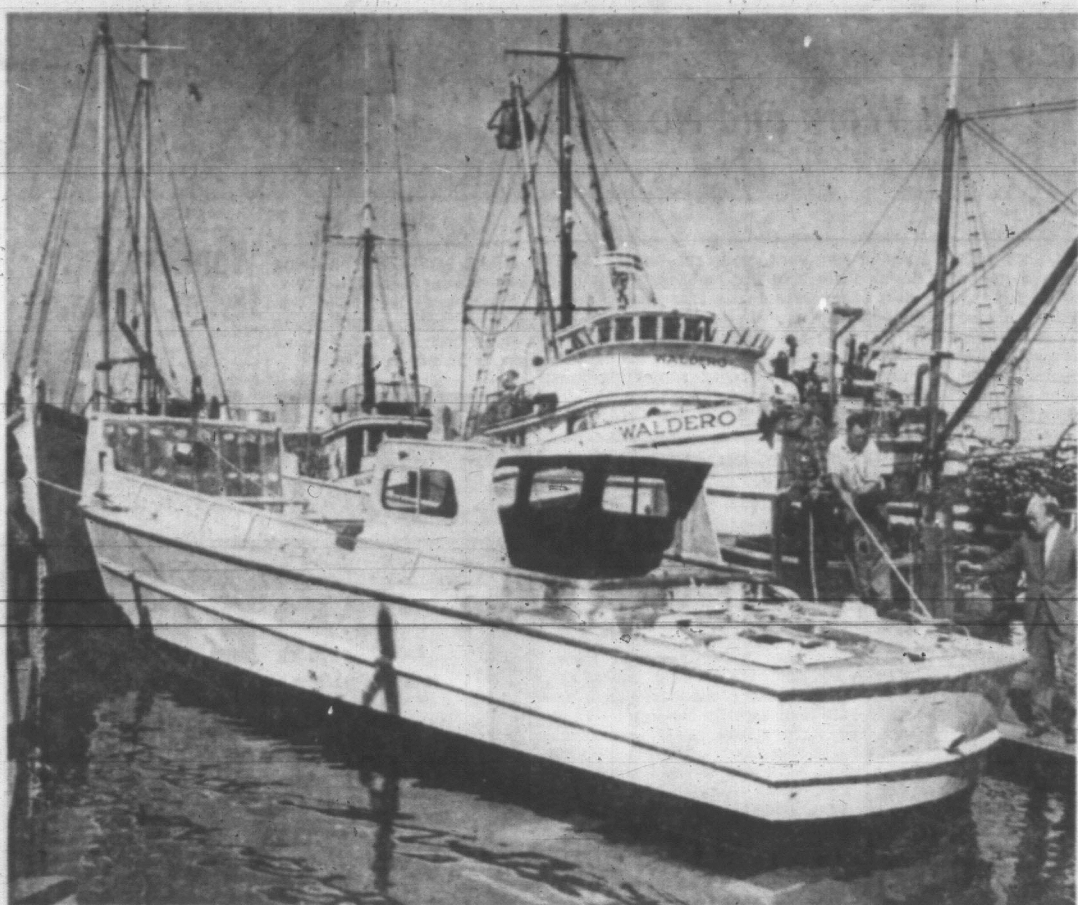

By Jack Meers, F.R.I., R.I. (B.C.)

When we sell a home by Auction, the Vendor receives an immediate answer as to the value of his property in the eyes of the buying public which have been aggregated together in one place at a definite time, also he obtains a sale at that time provided he is prepared to accept the price offered.

The main disadvantage is that if a satisfactory price is not obtained at the Auction (or in subsequent negotiation immediately after) and the property is not sold it can become difficult to sell it for awhile.

Property selected and properly publicized can reach a premium price at an Auction but care must be taken not to use this method of selling indiscriminately. The property should be fresh to the market and a premium price can generally be obtained for charming, character quality and other outstanding features.

515 ANIMALS AT DUNCAN

Fair Sets New Record

Vancouver Island livestock breeders showed their appreciation of fine new agricultural buildings and grounds at Duncan by entering a record total of 515 animals in the annual two-day Cowichan Fall Fair which concluded Saturday.

Under sunny skies, in a typical country fair atmosphere, spectators watched the showing and judging of cattle, horses, sheep, and swine from many of the south Island's lushest farms.

Competition among boys and girls representing 4-H groups was keen, and sheep dog trials with entries from Salt Spring Island and the Fraser Valley were an extra attraction.

Woodwyn Farm in West Saanich scored the champion Angus bull and cow. George Tatten of Sooke won the champion Shorthorn bull honors, and best Shorthorn cow rating went to Bill Turner, Saanich. Entry totals, well up over last year's, according to fair officials, saw 72 Jerseys listed, 21 Holsteins, 26 Shorthorns, 18 Angus, 21 Guernseys, 34 Ayrshires, 84 light horses, 24 Herefords, and 50 swine.

Among 4-H junior farmers who entered a bumper 82 animals, Joan Youell of Saanich Jersey Calf Club won the Highland Trophy for showmanship. Joan is one of four calf club members chosen to attend the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto in November. At Pacific National Exhibition she took top 4-H showman honors for the second year in a row.

CATTLE ENTRIES
Other winning cattle entries were: Champion Holstein bull, J. A. Judge and Sons, Victoria; champion Holstein cow, Dr. L. Barty, Saanich.

Champion Jersey bull, A. W. Aylard and Sons, Sidney; champion Jersey cow, H. Standen, Cowichan Station.

Top score in the horse show went to Saanich rider C. C. Carpenter with his handsome thoroughbred, Ab's Boy. Sheep section winners included Denis Levy and A. Loch of Victoria.

The Saanich Home Arts Club composed of Jane Elliott and Roberta Delbruck, won the senior 4-H demonstration competition.

The Luxton Garden Club with Marian McDowell and Louise Simon placed second, while the North Saanich Goat Club was third. The latter was represented by Margie Lord and Elizabeth Howe.

JUNIOR CLUBS

Runner-up was the South Saanich Goat Club composed of Mary Watson and Greg Colvin, and third Luxton Poultry with Michael Woodruff and Rob Finney.

Betty Ann Saville, Sidney, won the Archie Stevenson trophy for the best Ayrshire calf.

Lorraine Jameson was awarded the Walker trophy for showmanship in the Cowichan district. She also took first prize for having the best calf in the Cowichan Jersey Club.

In the Holstein Club competition, Fred Barton placed first for having the best yearling.

DANCE COMPETITION
In 4-H square dancing competition, Mrs. Tom O'Reilly's Saanich "Blue Jays" group was judged the best. The team consisted of Joan Youell, Wendy Baker, Rhodena Cronk and Chris Andrews with partners Joan Stanlake, Pat Hoole, Jr., Reg Hoole and Glen Willing.

In the flower section, the only Victorian to win a major award was Mrs. Ann Paskin. She won the Cowichan Exhibition Cup with her entry, "autumn tints."

G. R. Mitchell, Saanich, took first prize in the field produce class, while the prize for the best money in the show went to C. M. Moscrip of Victoria.

Ponder colliers worked by William P. Evans, Ganges, came first in sheep herding competitions judged by Michael Williams.

11th Hour Talks Avert Strike Of Tug Boatmen
Strike deadline at 8 a.m. today passed unnoticed as coast towboat operators and crews reached tentative agreement on a new work contract whose terms had threatened to tie up dependent industries.

Last-minute talks Sunday averted a walkout which would have affected about 150 Victoria crewmen employed by Island Tug and Barge Ltd.

Terms of the proposed settlement to halt a strike which could have tied up B.C. coastal towboat operations were not announced.

Four Hurt In Weekend Accidents

City police motorcycle constable Wilfred Rule was knocked from his bike at a busy intersection in one of three weekend accidents, sending four people to hospital.

The officer was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for abrasions, examined for broken bones and released.

He turned up for duty later, but was sent home to recover from the experience.

Police traffic officers said a car driven by Mrs. Gwendolyn Higgs, 3018 Westdowne, was going west on Bay and the officer was driving on Quadra when the accident happened at 9:10 p.m.

There was minor damage to motorcycle and car.

HIT POWER POLE
A Saanich couple whose car crashed into a power pole Sunday afternoon are still in Royal Jubilee Hospital with multiple injuries.

Driver Mrs. Margaret Gilman, 47, of 3322 Cedar Hill Road, is "fairly good" with a broken leg and face injuries.

Her husband George, about 50, is described as being in satisfactory condition with head injuries.

Saanich police said the car apparently swung wide on taking a curve at Quadra and Union, breaking off a B.C. Hydro pole.

Anne Kronenberg, 466 Burnside East, was the only person hurt in a four-car, rear-end crash at Trans-Canada Highway and Grange at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The crash involved three drivers living at the same address—466 Burnside East—and one "outsider."

First car in line was driven by Leonardus Vandekamp, the second (in which Miss Kronenberg was passenger) by Bernard Meine, and the third by Leonard Vandekamp.

Fourth car had Gerald Gieskens, 60 Logan Street, at the wheel.

There was about $1,000 total damage.

B.C. Hydro Must Protect Salmon Run

Commission Orders Work On Puntledge

A special inquiry ordered by the B.C. government into the crucial issue of fish versus power has ruled in favor of fish.

The inquiry resulted in an order that B.C. Hydro spend $623,500 on fish protection at its Puntledge River power project near Courtenay.

The recommendation was passed to the cabinet in a report from Public Utilities Commission chairman Dr. H. F. Angus on April 27.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black released the report today.

Dr. Angus was appointed special commissioner to investigate a dispute between B.C. Hydro and the federal department of fisheries.

HEAVY DAMAGE

The fisheries department asked Hydro to carry out the fish protection project, claiming many thousands of dollars of damage to salmon and steelhead since 1955.

Dr. Angus, after a series of public hearings, ruled in favor of fish and said in effect: "This must not happen again."

He said B.C. Hydro should pay the entire cost of constructing fish ladders and a diversion dam.

He also called for legislation providing fish protection in any public power projects in B.C.

Such protection is already stipulated for private projects, he said, but most B.C. hydro development now will be under public ownership.

YEARLY SAVING

Dr. Angus said benefits from the Puntledge protection scheme will total $60,000 a year in saving fish, commercial and sport fishing and extra generation of power at the Puntledge site.

This is after cost of the project is deducted.

Dr. Angus set the cost at $623,500. B.C. Hydro had claimed it would cost $815,000; Ottawa said it would only be $360,180.

Dr. Angus said the Puntledge dispute served as an illustration of the difficulties of multiple resource development.

"To resolve them may require political or legislative action," he said.

He suggested that B.C. Hydro hire its own fish biologists to study problems raised by its projects.

Thieves Take $570 Proceeds From Car Races
Proceeds from stock-car racing events—totaling $570—were stolen from a parked car after a Langford race meet Saturday night.

Kenneth Lightly of 560 Agnes, a member of Vancouver Island Track Racing Association, told police he had parked his car at Gorge Hotel lot, with the money locked in a blue metal cashbox in the trunk compartment.

The theft was estimated to have taken place between 10:30 and midnight.

Civic Precinct Plans Progress

California Here They Come

Two 18-year-old Victorians helped a B.C. team win top place in the intermediate class of an important international horse show in California.

Jeann Dunbar, 1007 Joan Crescent, riding her own horse Seven Up, was the individual intermediate class winner at the three-day competition which ended Sunday in Pebble Beach, Calif.

Miss Dunbar and Pat Donaldson, 1536 Arrow, formed half of the B.C. team which won first place in the intermediate class after beating out top riding teams from various parts of the United States.

Other members of the B.C. team—first representing this province at the fifth annual international horse show in Pebble Beach—were Cheryl Frost and Max Zimmerman, captain, both of Haney. Miss Donaldson rode March Mist, owned by Mr. Zimmerman.

HIGHLY RATED

The Pebble Beach competitions are highly rated and are used by the U.S. riding associations in choosing a national team to compete in the Pan-American Games next year.

The three-day competition included dressage Friday, cross-country endurance Saturday and jumping Sunday.

The B.C. team, besides scoring the highest overall marks in the intermediate class, also was the only one to make a clean round in the cross-country event.

The two Victoria girls, and Mrs. Joan Dunbar, who accompanied them, are expected back at the end of this week.

Sneak Thief Takes $205 From Sleeper
A Victoria man who cashed his pay cheque Friday, then went to bed early, woke up Saturday broke.

Derek Elcoate, 436 Durban, told city police he had $205 in his wallet when he left it in a trouser pocket in his bedroom closet.

He said he went to bed at 6 p.m. and his wife and 14-year-old son retired at 1 a.m., apparently leaving a front door unlocked.

When Mrs. Elcoate arose for work, she found her husband's wallet on a chest of drawers and the papers it had contained scattered around the bedroom floor.

Similar sneak thefts occurred in Fairfield district last month, when about $500 was stolen from wallets and purses, but in these cases the burglar was careful to replace them intact except for the money.

Financing Discussion Under Way

Decision on the best method of financing the civic precinct development will be sought as soon as possible, Ald. A. W. Toone said today.

He is chairman of the special committee set up by council to act as a ways and means committee for carrying out the permanent centennial project of rehabilitating City Hall, building an addition and creating Victoria Square.

"Actually, the project already is underway because we have purchased some of the needed properties, obtained options on others and are now actively negotiating for the remaining three," he said.

A meeting of the committee—which has Mayor R. B. Wilson and finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell as its other members—will be held in about a week to review negotiations.

BEST METHOD

"After that we will have to try to decide as soon as possible on the best method of financing the whole project because, if a money bylaw is needed, the vote will be held in December."

Ald. Toone said he hoped that a decision could be made in the next few weeks "but we will have to have a recommendation for council by November at the very latest" he said.

This would be necessary to give council ample time to thoroughly discuss any recommendation before deciding if a referendum will be called for the Dec. 13 election.

"I certainly want the people to have every opportunity of learning what is involved," he said.

REPAID FROM SALES

Ald. Toone stressed that even if a money bylaw is required to allow an early construction start, it would be repaid primarily from sale of city-owned lots rather than taxes.

(Early guesses previously suggested the city might need to borrow up to $500,000 to carry out the project quickly. About this much is expected to be realized from land sales over the next few years.)

Ald. Toone said he was anxious that the city should move quickly on the project "and this may mean we will have to borrow to make a start now but it could be repaid from the land sales according to a financial analysis."

Bank Rules Blamed For Hospitals' Woes

Health Minister Eric Martin today blamed bank restrictions, and the federal government for hospital financing difficulties.

He was commenting on a threat from the Hospital Employees Union of a work stoppage if hospitals failed to meet payrolls.

Vernon Jubilee Hospital last week told employees they would have to wait for pay until delayed B.C. Hospital Insurance Service payments are made. Other Okanagan hospitals complained that they were not getting big enough advances from the BCHIS.

William Black, secretary of the union, said in Vancouver he had written to Mr. Martin telling him if any B.C. hospital fails to meet a payroll there will be a work stoppage.

Mr. Martin said it was the responsibility of hospitals—not government—to meet payrolls. He said Vernon had received more money this year than ever.

MAKES ADVANCES

The government makes advances on BCHIS payments totalling $5,900,000 a month. Hospitals submit their claims and the balance is made up later. Later still the federal government reimburses B.C. for its share in hospital insurance.

Mr. Martin said current problems are partly due to banks refusing overdrafts, which formerly helped hospitals.

talks meet expenses until final BCHIS payments.

"But the real solution would be federal government participation in advances to meet interim payments," he said.

Hospital administrators at Trail, Kimberley and Castlegar say they are in trouble because the BCHIS advance payments are insufficient.

However no such problem exists in Victoria.

Jubilee Hospital administrator George Masters said there is always enough working capital available to meet expenses.

A spokesman for St. Joseph's said financial resources are sufficient and no holdback on payroll is contemplated.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Is there any casino gambling game at which it is possible, by legal strategy, to beat the house? J.S.

A. Most casino games are set up so that the play will—on average—lose more than he will win; this is what he must pay for the privilege of playing. One gambling expert, however, says that it is possible to beat the house at blackjack, a card game, if the proper strategy is used, and he cites the case of two men who broke the bank at two Havana casinos to prove his point. It may be added that certain gamblers are barred from playing blackjack in many casinos.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Thirty cartons of cigarettes, valued at over $100, were stolen from a city grocery store Sunday night by a thief who was described by police as "very small."

Entry was made into Len's Grocery, 1024 Finlayson, by squeezing through the bars of a rear window, police said.

The cigarettes were in a store-room at the rear of the shop.

Oak Bay residents will no longer be subjected to "a Toronto sales pitch" by a zealous young magazine salesman.

The salesman's Vancouver manager promised to curb the youth's high-pressure tactics after Oak Bay licence inspector John Muir warned that his licence to sell door-to-door in the municipality would be revoked if they continued.

Householders had complained to the inspector and police about the youth's sales pitch.

Food hampers will be available to some 300 families when the Free Food Stall is held next Saturday, says Mrs. E. E. Harper, convenor.

Persons with surplus vegetables and fruit should contact Mrs. Harper at her home at 5695 Pitt Bay Highway, telephone GR 4-1750.

Two members of the First Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will be among top Canadian Army marksmen who will compete with U.S. Army teams at Fort Benning, Ga., in October.

Sgt-Maj. R. G. Buxton will compete on the pistol team and Lance-Cpl. J. W. Mathews will be on the rifle squad.

The pair were selected at the regular army small arms meet, held recently in Ottawa in which the PPCLI pistol team gained a first and the rifle entry placed third.

Two local equestrians brought home nine ribbons at a horse show Saturday at the Mission City and District Agricultural and Horticultural Association Fall Fair.

Duncan Rimmer on Lady, and Barbara Johnstone riding King-go-Boy gained two firsts, four seconds and three thirds in eight events.

Old Age Pensioners No. 1 picnic to the Gorge, scheduled for Tuesday, has been cancelled due to unsatisfactory weather prospects.

Garry Lavigne, 1625 Hollywood, was fined $250 in city police court today after pleading guilty to a charge of impaired driving.

He was remanded to a later date for consideration of suspension of his licence.

Two Victoria men, both provincial finance department employees, were among the first 26 British Columbians to receive diplomas in real estate appraisal from the faculty of commerce and business administration at the University of B.C. Friday evening.

The two who successfully completed the three-year course were W. P. Wright, 1704 Myrtle, executive assistant to the assessment commissioner, and N. G. Curbishley, 257 Stewart, land valuator.

Steel Beam Falls,
2 Workmen Killed

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two men were killed today when a 20-ton steel beam fell and struck them as they worked on the side of a large storage silo.

Police said a cable held the beam at the top of a 50-foot steel and concrete silo snapped. The big beam fell 20 feet, striking the men at the 30-foot level. The silo was under construction at the Evans, Coleman, Evans plant in Vancouver's industrial area.

Car Crash Kills 2

LYTTON, B.C. (CP) — A head-on car crash on a highway curve took the lives of two Vancouver men three miles south of here Sunday night.

RCMP identified them as Albert Roger Hand, 39, and Frank Baillie, 59; both employees of the Marwell Construction Company working on a project near Kamloops.

PATERSON N.J. (AP) — After Joseph Freenan underwent successful surgery for gall bladder trouble a solicitor nurse brought him the gallstone that was removed Saturday so he could see what it looked like.

Freenan was speaking at his bedside telephone when the nurse left the stone in a cup.

Freenan finished his conversation, looked in to the cup and, thinking it contained a pill, promptly swallowed his gall stone.

NOT REALLY FIT FOR DUCKS

It was rain, rain, rain over most of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland today—and this solitary duck in Beacon Hill Park seemed glad of an umbrella. Starting Sunday afternoon, 29 of an inch fell on Greater Victoria overnight and this morning following a fairly dry spell since Aug. 20. But July and August had more rain than usual. Mainly cloudy weather with showers is expected Tuesday with some clearing towards evening. (Times photo by Halkett.)

Formosa's U-2 Flight
U.S. Plot, Reds Charge

TAOPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist China, reporting it shot down one of two U-2 planes the Chinese Nationalists bought from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U-2's they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a "routine" reconnaissance mission over the China mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U-2's were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation in December of that year.

A U.S. state department spokesman said the U-2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes was solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it "could be assumed" that information obtained from Nationalist U-2 flights would be turned over to the United States in the normal course of intelligence exchange between two allies.

FOLLOWS USSR PROTEST

The latest U-2 incident, announced over Peking radio, came five days after the Soviet Union protested that an American-piloted U-2 had violated Soviet air space over Russian-held Sakhalin Island, north of Japan. The United States admitted that one of its patrol planes might have been blown off course by high winds.

Peking did not disclose the fate of the Nationalist pilot, but Nationalist officials said privately they were convinced he could not have been captured alive.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U-2 intact to the mainland.

UN Members
Split in Poll

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — United Nations members, in a poll taken by Acting Secretary-General U-Thant, split about evenly on the issue of calling an international conference to sign a treaty outlawing nuclear weapons.

This was disclosed today in a report to the forthcoming General Assembly by U-Thant. The United States and Britain were among 26 nations who were against or had doubts about holding the conference. The Soviet Union and other Communist nations were among 29 nations expressing a favorable view.

An Asian-African resolution, approved by a vote of 55-to-20 with 26 abstentions at the last assembly, directed U-Thant to make the poll.

VIOLENCE

RHODESIA

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — White-ruled Southern Rhodesia experienced widespread arson, sabotage and political intimidation during the weekend, police said today.

Police said they are investigating the source of leaflets claiming the existence of a Mau Mau-like African "liberation army" which advocates violence to put Southern Rhodesia immediately under black rule.

The disorders included: An attempt to blow up a highway bridge near Umfali, 170 miles from Salisbury; the burning of an African school at Sinoia, 70 miles from Salisbury; the erection of roadblocks in some areas and the burning of the European club house at Zaka, near Fort Victoria.

ECM Fears

(Times News Services)

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today opened the 1962 16-nation Commonwealth prime ministers' conference with a speech attempting to calm fears about Britain's possible entrance into the European Common Market, it was reported.

Reports said Macmillan delivered the speech in the closed afternoon session of what British newspapers called the most vital such meeting in Commonwealth history.

Details of conference proceedings were—as usual—not made public. But reports said Macmillan followed up his brief morning welcoming address with a speech designed to allay the deep-rooted suspicions that British Common Market membership might loosen drastically the economic and political ties binding the Commonwealth.

FULL EXPLANATION

The first of what is expected to be a series of conference communiqués issued tonight said only that Macmillan gave a "full explanation of the political and economic aspects" of Britain's plan to join the continental trade bloc.

The leaders of 750,000,000 people decided after Macmillan's statement to set aside the next two days for general debate on the market issue.

But the talks can reach no final conclusion since the decision on the final terms rests ultimately with the six nations of the Common Market.

Act in Sympathy
With Marchers

NANAIMO (CP) — Six young Doukhobors have gone on a hunger strike at the Brannen Lake School for juvenile male offenders.

School officials said the strike began Sept. 3, apparently in sympathy with the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are on a trek from the Kootenays to Agassiz.

Officials said that since Labor Day the youths, all aged 16 and 17 years, have only been drinking water.

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP) — While an irate farmer looked on helplessly, some 750 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors placidly settled down in his fields Sunday.

There was nothing that farmer Bill Podovnikoff could do about the hymn-singing Freedomite marchers — they were there at the invitation of his wife. And they were apparently staying until Wednesday.

"I didn't want them to come to my farm," Mr. Podovnikoff said. "But my wife said they can stay as long as they like. She owns the title to the land."

"I went to the police but they say it's up to her. I can't influence her. I have a well and they are buying food. I don't think they'll burn anything."

Meanwhile, the Freedomites — still stalled on their 400-mile trek to Agassiz, 80 miles east of Vancouver — were seemingly unconcerned about the consternation, anger and worry they were causing around them.

As they sang, prayed, disrobed for no apparent reason, washed clothes and worked on cars and trucks, angry Orthodox Doukhobors guarded their farms, British Columbia highways department employees watched bridges and buildings and RCMP continued investigations of the destruction of a wooden bridge, saying arson was a possibility.

He expressed disappointment that there had been no reply from Attorney-General Bonner to a wire he sent Friday calling for protection of his people.

Officials at Agassiz, 80 miles east of Vancouver, wondered what they could do about the Freedomites if and when they arrived there.

GUAM BASE FOR A-SUBS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today it will base Polaris missile submarines at Guam, strategically located in the mid-Pacific about 1,800 miles from Communist China.

The announcement gave no date for moving the nuclear-powered subs into the Pacific, but the navy timetable is reported to call for posting the first of them off Red China by late next year.

KASHMIR DISPUTE

Nehru Target
Of Angry Mob

LONDON, (Reuters) — Demonstrators demanding the independence of Kashmir broke through a police cordon today and headed toward a car carrying Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

But police after a few minutes struggle managed to force back the angry Kashmiris to the sidewalk.

The demonstrators shouted, booed and shook their fists at Nehru's car as he left the opening session of the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference here.

A short distance away demonstrators representing an anti-market movement in Britain carried placards reading "Britain-yes, Common Market-no."

The demonstrating Kashmiris — about 300 of them — shouted slogans that built up to a crescendo as each car carrying a Commonwealth statesman swept past.

Kashmir has been claimed by both India and Pakistan since the sub-continent was divided in 1947.

The maharajah ruling the Himalayan province acceded the territory to India, but Pakistan refused to recognize the accession.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

SEPT. 10

A large hay press, the first on the Island, arrived for Mr. Len-ue, and it is apparent that the farmers have not forgotten last winter's severe weather. A good portion of most farms is devoted to the growing of wheat, which is now being harvested and stacked.

William Cocker has been chosen unanimously to represent Esquimalt in the House of Assembly, succeeding Mayor Harris. The election was held yesterday in front of Williams' Hotel, Wharf Street, and the 50 persons attending them adjourned to the bar to drink Mr. Cocker's health.

The Royal Navy flagship Bacchante will sail Sept. 15 on her winter cruise in southern waters, which will last several months.

FANFARE

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Boys and girls of Victoria Junior Natural History Society worked through the weekend on the 40-foot-long exhibit they are preparing for the Horticultural Society's big show in the Curling Rink next Friday and Saturday.

At the Nature House in sylvan Thomas Francis Park, I watched the youngsters laying out specimens of plants, insects, stuffed birds, rock and soil and cuttings from trees and bushes on a 40-foot length of white paper.

This industrious scene was presided over, of course, by the society's genial president, Freeman (Skipper) King, whose favorite advice is:

"Don't wait for me—have a go at it yourself!"

There's a bidder for the old Fort Victoria used in our Centennial pageant. Former channel swimmer Ben Laughren wants it. A hundred years from now it could be a valuable relic!

Former naval officer Digby Lynch was a Victoria visitor over the weekend, with his 19-year-old son Tom.

A Hallandian and one of the most popular young officers in the RCNVR, Lynch was in the first class at Royal Roads in the Second World War. From insurance in Hall, he has branched out into interests as far-ranging as vending machines and a copper property in Idaho.

A lady tourist called at the travel desk of one of our local transportation firms to complete a circle tour of this area.

Certainly, madam," the young clerk said, "and how did you arrive on the island?"

"I don't know," she said.

"Did you land at Nanaimo or Sidney?"

"I'm sorry—I don't know."

"What ship did you travel on to the island?"

She concentrated manfully, then brightened. "It was a Japanese ferry," she said. "I know that because it was called the Kahaki or Koliki or something. And it flew the 'Rising Sun'."

From England comes the tale of the liquor manufacturer who went to great trouble to have his factory's telephone number (considered in terms of the letters rather than numbers) spell out WHISKY.

He had to settle his factory in the Whitehall exchange area to do it.

Unfortunately, it seems the Scots spell it differently, and there is one angry man in London whose phone number spells WHISKIE.

Keeping abreast of the times, Rev. J. Douglas Watson fired a small rocket to mark the reopening of Sunday school at Stevenson Memorial Baptist Church, 1792 Townley Street, Sunday morning.

The result was a record attendance of more than 70 boys and girls who watched wide-eyed while Mr. Watson lit his home-made rocket and sent it zooming into the air.

"We called it Project Stevenson Control," he laughed. Mr. Watson will be inducted as minister of the church this Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Three Victoria high school graduates are among 32 Canadians who have been enrolled in the Royal Canadian Navy as officer cadets under terms of the Venture Plan.

They are Garth Campbell Gordon, 53 Lewis Street; Gary Douglas Fullerton, 559 Baxter Avenue, and Stephen Robert Price, 3439 Cook Street.

The plan is open to students who have a junior matriculation standing or better.

MACMILLAN Court Record Of Forger In Dispute

Pressure in Britain is increasing against Britain's entry. As the prime ministers gathered at Marlborough House this morning they passed a picket line carrying placards reading: "Common Market means end of the Commonwealth" and "Common Market—No."

Macmillan, as host to the gathering, made an opening speech of welcome this morning. Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada and Dr. Eric Williams of Trinidad, as leaders of the oldest and youngest Commonwealth nations, replied.

DIEFENBAKER REPLIES

Mr. Diefenbaker said it is "important to look to the future at this time, when a problem of momentous significance is before us for consideration."

He expressed confidence that all members would pledge themselves to ensure that the underlying principle of their talks would be "the further strengthening of the Commonwealth association."

He said the presence of four new Commonwealth members at their first conference—Sierra Leone, Tanganyika, Jamaica and Trinidad—shows the value of the Commonwealth in promoting mutual understanding and respect among governments and nations of differing backgrounds.

On arrival Friday, Diefenbaker whetted journalistic curiosity by guarded references to an "alternative" Canadian plan for Commonwealth trade expansion that may be produced if Britain does not join the European Economic Community.

REACTIONS VARY

This produced varied reactions. Newspapers hostile to British entry gleefully portrayed Diefenbaker as Macmillan's main opponent.

The Daily Express, a constant critic of the European design, says Diefenbaker will "lead the Commonwealth cause" this week in two major speeches, one stressing his fear that Canada may be forced into undue dependence on the United States, the other outlining the damage British membership in EEC would do to "Canadian newsprint, aluminum, lumber, fish and the big industrial complex in southwestern Ontario."

Other papers are more sceptical about Canadian "plans." The Daily Telegraph, favorable to British entry, says delegates are eagerly awaiting details of the reported Canadian initiative. It says they are unable to see what alternative Canada can produce other than a Commonwealth free trade area, "which for some years now has been recognized as a complete non-starter."

Mr. Diefenbaker lunched Sunday with Mr. Macmillan. Diefenbaker later described their talks as "very fine."

One point touched on, it is understood, was the Saturday declaration by British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell that Britain shouldn't enter the EEC's six-nation Common Market on the basis of "present vague promises and assurances" for the "protection of Commonwealth trade interest."

FREEDOMITES

and their families be dispersed throughout Canada.

LEAVE WEDNESDAY

A delegation left for Agassiz Sunday to attempt to arrange accommodation. Fanny Storgoff, one of the spokesmen, said the rest would leave Wednesday when the delegation returned.

Apparently in commenting on reports that the Freedomites would never reach the Fraser Valley town, "Big Fanny" said: "I do not care what anyone says or what the reports are, we are going to Agassiz to our people."

Mr. Verigin expressed his disappointment with the attorney-general in an interview.

"This situation is very, very serious. My people have had no rest and are on edge and we will find no peace or contentment until they (Freedomites) have left the area."

LOSE SLEEP

He has said that the people are spending sleepless nights guarding their property. It is reported that the five sawmills in the area will stay closed until the Freedomites leave, giving their employees a chance to guard their property.

Councillor Norman Green of Agassiz said officials are at a loss to know what to do about the marchers. If they arrived something would have to be done—"we can't just turn them out."

Court Record Of Forger In Dispute

Judicial puzzlement over the alleged record of a man who pleaded guilty to uttering seven forged documents won him a remand in city police court Saturday until the matter could be cleared up.

Neale Vanderhaeghe, 1024 Dunford, will be sentenced Wednesday on seven charges of forging cheques in the name of a former employer, Nick Liberto, carrying on business as B. L. Logging Co.

Vanderhaeghe's record was read to the court, including a sentence in Alberta in 1959 of "time in custody."

"There's no such sentence," objected Magistrate William Ostler.

The accused man consulted with his counsel, Ian Stewart, but was unable to shed any light on the matter.

"I must take this conviction—if it was a conviction—into consideration in sentencing," said the magistrate.

He ordered prosecutor Angus Smith to have the correct record in court by Wednesday so that sentence could be passed.

Police Waiting Victim's Report Of Knife Attack

City detectives investigating the stabbing of a 25-year-old man Saturday have been held up by the victim's condition in hospital.

Police said today they do not expect to be able to talk to him until Tuesday "at the earliest."

Norman Bradley, 749 McClure is in fairly good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital where he was admitted early Saturday morning with a knife wound in the stomach.

He was given an emergency operation, although no vital organs were damaged.

The victim made his own way to the emergency ward at the hospital where his mother, Mrs. Ann Bradley, works as a maid.

Police have talked with Mrs. Bradley who has stated, she knows the identity of her son's assailant.

"He carried a knife for just that purpose," she was reported as saying.

Mr. Bradley's 20-year-old wife Judith, who was with him the night of the stabbing has refused to discuss the incident with her mother-in-law.

Floods Hit Scotland

GLASGOW (Reuters)—Torrential rains flooded many parts of Scotland Sunday. The River Cart, which flows through part of Glasgow, burst its banks and flowed over playing fields and a street, in some places to a depth of five feet. In other parts of the city, water was more than three feet deep.
